ED officials at the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation office in Bengaluru on Wednesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

ED raids ex-minister Nagendra, MLA Daddal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru/Ballari/Raichur

OFFICIALS of the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) conducted search and seizure operations at 18 locations in Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana on Wednesday in connection with the multi-crore scam in Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Limited.

While the state government has constituted a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the scam, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) registered a case a few weeks ago based on a complaint by Union Bank of India.

It is learnt that after the premier investigation agency shared information related to the scam, the ED too registered a case under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

The ED officials searched former minister for tribal welfare B Nagendra's two flats in an apartment complex on New BEL Road and his residence at Dollars Colony in Bengaluru. They also searched his house at Nehru Colony in Ballari.

Sources confirmed that documents related to agricultural and revenue land purchased recently were found in the minister's house in Ballari. In all, five places linked to the minister, his family members and friends were searched.

A senior police officer from Ballari said 20 police personnel were part of the operations. Personnel from the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) were also deployed.

The officials searched the residences of Basanagouda Daddal, Raichur Rural MLA and chairman of the corporation, in Raichur and at Yelahanka in Bengaluru. It is said that the MLA was in Bengaluru, while his wife and son-in-law were in Raichur house.

Sec 125 on maintenance applies to Muslim women too, rules SC

Supreme Court's two-judge bench, in concurring verdict, says CrPC section is religion neutral

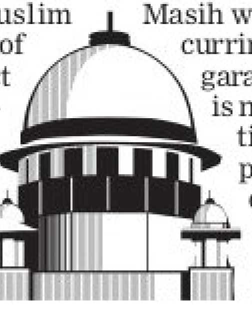
SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

IN a significant verdict, the Supreme Court on Wednesday ruled that all divorced women, irrespective of religion, were entitled to seek maintenance from their spouse under Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (CrPC). Section 125 deals with maintenance for the wife, children and parents.

A bench of justices B V Nagarathna and Augustine George Masih pronounced the verdict after rejecting an appeal filed by Mohd Abdul Samad. He had been ordered by a family court in Telangana to pay a monthly maintenance of ₹20,000 to his ex-wife. The Telangana HC later decreased the quantum of maintenance to ₹10,000.

Samad had divorced her through triple talaq, which was outlawed by the Supreme Court in 2017 and criminalised by the Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Marriage) Act 2019.

The court rejected Samad's contention that the Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Divorce) Act 1986 overrides the secular Section 125 CrPC. The 1986 law was introduced under the watch of the then prime minister Rajiv Gandhi to soften the impact of the landmark Supreme Court verdict in the Shah Bano case in 1985, which said Muslim women were entitled to maintenance.



Both justices Nagarathna and Masih wrote separate but concurring verdicts. Justice Nagarathna said the 1986 Act is not a substitute for Section 125, nor has it supplanted it. Both can operate simultaneously at the option of a divorced Muslim woman. Excluding the application of Section 125 for a divorced Muslim woman would be in violation of Article 15(1) of the Constitution, which states that the state shall not discriminate on the ground of religion, race, caste, sex, place of birth, etc., she said.

"There cannot be disparity in receiving maintenance on the basis of the law under which a woman is married or divorced. The same cannot be a basis for discriminating a divorced woman entitled to maintenance as per the conditions stipulated under Section 125 of the CrPC or any personal or other law such as the 1986 Act," Justice Nagarathna said.

Justice Masih said rights of maintenance under Section 125 and the 1986 Act "parallelly exist in their distinct domains and jurisprudence".

FINANCIAL EMPOWERMENT OF WOMEN

Both 'financial security' and 'security of residence' of women have to be protected and enhanced, Justice Nagarathna said. That would truly empower the homemakers who are the backbone of the family. It is within the family that values of life are learnt. It is these moral and ethical values that are inherited by generations. But, for that to happen, women in the family have to be respected and empowered, she said

BENGALURU NEEDS SECOND INT'L AIRPORT, TALKS ON, SAYS MB PATIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INDUSTRIES and Infrastructure Development Minister MB Patil on Wednesday said a second international airport for Bengaluru is certain and initial discussions are on in this regard. Bengaluru is a global city that needs another international airport with a capacity to handle 100 million passengers a year, he said.

The minister said the exclusivity clause with BIAL, which restricts building another airport within a radius of 150 km from KIA ends in 2033. "If we begin the process now, Bengaluru can have the second airport ready by then. Cities such as Mumbai and Delhi have second airports at a distance of 35-40 km. A decision will be taken soon to facilitate growth and improve the livability of Bengaluru," the Minister told reporters.

Patil said the second airport needs around 5,000 acres of land. A high-level committee will take a decision, taking several factors into account. The government can now identify land for the project off Kanakapura Road and Mysuru Road, at Magadi, Doddaballapura, Dabaspet and Tumakuru.

Ruling out the possibility of developing HAL Airport as the second international airport, the minister said that it is a small one and can't be expanded. "We have many options. According to norms, before deciding the airport's location, we have to consider various factors. We are taking experts' opinions," he said.

"KIA, which is the third busiest airport in the country after Mumbai and Delhi, can handle 52 million passengers and 0.71 million tonnes of cargo a year. Further expansion may help handle 110 million passengers and 1.10 million tonnes of cargo a year. The airport is expected to reach its peak handling capacity by 2035. Thereafter, there will be no scope to build runways as it already has two," he said. On Tamil Nadu's decision to build an airport at Hosur near Bengaluru, the minister said the CM of that state announced it after Karnataka started initial discussions on having the second airport. TN's decision would not affect Karnataka, he said.

"Let them do whatever they want. We are very serious about the second airport for Bengaluru. After taking over as minister, I decided to remove the exclusivity clause when the agreement came up for renewal," Patil said.

REASI ATTACK

Terrorists took instructions from handlers in Pak: NIA

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

TERRORISTS who attacked a bus carrying pilgrims in Jammu's Reasi on June 9 received instructions from their handlers based in Pakistan, a probe by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) found.

Sources said as per the evidence collected so far, before executing the attack, the remote handlers were contacted and permission taken.

The investigators found that a Rajouri-based overground worker (OGW) Hakam Khan alias Hakin Din, who has been arrested in connection with the case, had sheltered the Pakistani terrorists for nearly a week before the day the bus was attacked. Khan also helped them in reaching the attack spot, sources added.

"The arrested OGW played the role of a guide to take the terrorists to the spot where the incident took place and helped them identify the curve on the road, where vehicles used to slow down. Even the exit plan was finalised," a source aware of the probe details said.

The terrorists navigated the thick forests of Rajouri, Poonch, and Kathua using a mobile application, Alpine West, which gave them real-time information about culverts, dense forests and other obstructions, sources said.

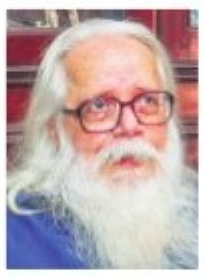
The probe agency suspects the role of Pakistan-based Lashkar-e-Toiba's Sajjid Jutt in executing the attack. There is a reward of ₹10 lakh for providing information leading to his arrest in connection with another case. Two other Pakistani terrorists Sajid Ali and Abu Qatal are also suspected to have been involved in the attack, sources said.

Terrorists opened fire at a bus carrying pilgrims from Shiv Khori to Katra on the evening of June 9 in the Pouni area of Reasi. The driver of the bus lost control, causing it to fall into a gorge.

Nine people, including a minor, were killed in the attack.

ISRO case fabricated by police, IB officials: CBI chargesheet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram



Nambi Narayanan

R B Sreekumar

THE 1994 ISRO espionage case, in which former space scientist Nambi Narayanan was falsely implicated, was the result of a conspiracy hatched by certain police and IB officials, the CBI told a court here.

The case was initiated by then special branch inspector S Vijayan after Maldivian national Mariyam Rasheeda spurned his advances, the agency said in its chargesheet filed before the Chief Judicial Magistrate Court, Thiruvananthapuram.

It said Vijayan had seized the travel documents of Mariyam, rendering her unable to return before her visa expired. When she could not return, she was booked by the police for overstaying, it added.

The chargesheet said police officials S Vijayan (first accused), Sibi Mathews (second accused), K K Joshua (third accused) then IB deputy director R B Sreekumar (fourth accused), and IB officer P S Jayaprakash (fifth accused) played an active role in the conspiracy to fabricate documents that led to illegal arrests and subsequent torture.

On the direction of the then Crimes DIG Sibi Mathews, four persons — D Sashikumaran, K Chandersekhar, Nambi Naryanan, and S K Sharma — were arrested without any evidence. They were interrogated and allegedly tortured at the behest of Sibi, the chargesheet said.

It said the espionage angle was fabricated to sustain the wrongs committed by the officials of the state police and IB.

Sreekumar has been accused of facilitating unauthorised questioning of Mariyam and torturing the accused. "He was responsible for physical and mental torture of arrested victims during unauthorised interrogation in custody of Kerala police by the IB team," said the chargesheet.

Sreekumar was ADGP in Gujarat during the Godhra riots and testified against the state government before the Nanavati Commission that looked into the 2002 riots.

Responding to the development, Nambi Narayanan said: "I wanted to bring out the culprits, who had fabricated the case. It took about 24 years for that to happen. I've lost interest in the case. If required, I can be a witness… Now I am old and even if the accused are punished, I am not interested."

Govt affidavit cites IIT-M clean chit to NEET-UG

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

A day ahead of the hearing in the NEET-UG case in the Supreme Court, the Centre and the National Testing Agency, which conducted the test, filed their affidavits on Wednesday opposing demand for a retest.

Citing an exhaustive data analysis of the results by IIT Madras, it said no local set of candidates benefitted, leading to abnormal scores in the exam. "The marks follow a bell-shaped curve that is witnessed in any large-scale examination indicating no abnormality," the IIT, Madras report signed by its director V Kamakoti read.

As for the increase in marks, they were in the range of 550 to 720. This increase is seen across cities and centres, and is attributed to 25% reduction in syllabus. In addition, candidates obtaining such high marks are spread across multiple cities and multiple centres, indicating very less likelihood of malpractice, the IIT report said.

The NTA's affidavit described as fake a video on Telegram on the NEET-UG paper leak.

Going forward, the Centre assured that candidates would be chucked — during counselling or thereafter — if they are found to be beneficiaries of malpractice. Steps would also be taken to restore the sanctity of the NEET, it said.

"The Government is committed to ensure the sanctity of examinations and protect the interest of students. To ensure transparency, fairness, and credibility in public examination, Parliament has enacted Public Examination (Prevention of Unfair Means) Act, 2024 on February 12, and an Act was brought into effect on June 21," the Centre said.

"If an exercise is to be conducted by NTA and by the Union Government so as to identify any further beneficiaries of the question paper leakage, a considered decision at the policy level would have to be taken by the government on the status of the counselling," it added.

B'luru office stock may touch 340m sqft by 2030

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

THE real estate sector is expected to see a huge boom in the country and Bengaluru will lead the trend. According to a report, Bengaluru's office stock (commercial spaces given out for leasing) is expected to touch 330-340 million sqft by 2030, the highest in the country. Currently, the city has 223 million sqft in Q2 2024, compared to 100 million sqft in 2013.

The report, 'Karnataka Horizon: Navigating Real Estate Excellence in the South', released by CBRE, the real estate consulting firm, and Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), on Wednesday, stated that Bengaluru has emerged winner in the office absorption (occupied by companies) segment compared to Delhi, Mumbai, Hyderabad and Chennai. The IT capital is also expected to see a spill-off of the trend in neighbouring districts.

Major industries contributing to this boom are technology engineering, manufacturing and Banking Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI). The sectors that drive demand for office space are life sciences, aviation and automobile. Emerging locations in North Bengaluru such as Bellary Road, Yelahanka and other areas, including Varthur Road and Kadugodi, are evoking significant interest due to improved infrastructure.

Ram Chandnani, Managing Director, Advisory and Transaction Services, CBRE India, told TNIE that 48-50% of commercial space leasing comes from South India. "Bengaluru houses 41% of 1,600 Global Capability Centres (GCCs) in India. This is because of the talent pool available in neighbouring states, growing infrastructure and sustainable cost of living, including rents which are affordable compared to other cities," he said.

Muharram sermons to pitch fostering brotherhood

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MUSLIM leaders and clerics, during the Muharram sermons this year, will pitch for fostering brotherhood by inviting people from other communities for religious and other events, and encourage community youths to try clearing civil services examinations like IAS, IPS, IFS, IRS and KAS.

As the 10th day of Muharram falls on July 17, the Muslim community will take out a mourning procession in memory of the martyrdom of Iman Hussain, the grandson of Prophet Muhammed, and there will be sermons in various masjids.

Muslim clerics and leaders will appeal to community youths to invite their brethren from other communities to take part in all social and religious events, treat them with respect and love and send a message of unity. Muslim youths will also be appealed to try competitive examinations.

Maqsood Imran Rashadi, Chief Priest, Jamia Masjid City Market, advised youth not to use DJ sets in Muharram processions or block streets. Take the help of the police and plan processions in such a way that it does not cause inconvenience to the public, he said.

'Golden period for country, its industry'

RAM Chandnani, Managing Director, Advisory and Transaction Services, CBRE India, told TNIE that with the boom in the commercial real estate sector, there is a need to scale up infrastructure in the city. "Currently, Bengaluru is playing catch-up with the growth."

He said, "With a commercial boom, marginal increase in rentals is expected as companies look at various amenities an office space can provide."

Experts said that to keep the momentum going, emerging industries need to upskill and attract more talent. "This is a golden period for India and its industry. The state and Union governments should fuel the growth," Chandnani said.

Record-high warehouses

Despite global headwinds and economic slowdown in 2023, Bengaluru achieved a record-high warehousing space of 4.6 million sqft with local developers leading the supply additions. The city now has 54 million sqft of warehousing spaces, ranking among the top three industrial and logistics hubs in India alongside Mumbai and Delhi-NCR.

Citizens seek participation as stakeholders in much-delayed Ejipura Flyover work to ensure timely completion

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE much-delayed Ejipura Flyover project, which has put the authorities in an embarrassing spot, is in the news once again.

After work on the flyover, ridiculed as Bengaluru's Stonehenge, has restarted after a prolonged delay, locals have little hope over its timely completion. Hence, they demand that they be included as stakeholders in the project to ensure its timely completion. They have also demanded the State Government and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) deploy a project management agency at the project site to review the progress on a daily basis.

Residents said that there is a need to complete the work at the earliest as work on Namma Metro's 3 A Sarjapura Line will commence soon and it will pass through Koramanagala, where the Ejipura Flyover will end.

At present, pre-casts for the flyover are being done at remote sites, and no one is aware of what is happening, the residents allege. So, an independent agency should be involved to monitor the progress, and residents should act as watchdogs, they said.

Nitin Seshadri, a citizen activist and a resident closely following the project, said that though the present contractor has agreed to use the pre-casts that were made by the previous agency and are piled in a unit on Bannerghatta Road, the new casts are being done in Kolkata and there is no report with the government on what and how much is being done. To ensure that the old cast segments are fit for use, the BBMP had taken the opinion from IISc experts.

Officials of the BBMP and Urban Development Department agree that after Peripheral Ring Road, the Ejipura Flyover project is the longest delayed project in the city. The last project that took nearly eight years to complete was the Domlur Flyover. It was also delayed because of problems with the contractors, the officials explained.

UDD officials also admitted that land acquisition along 100 Ft Road in Koramanagala after Kendriya Sadan and at St John's Medical College is yet to be done. A private building near the 100 Ft Road junction also needs to be demolished.

Despite repeated interventions from ministers, including Ramalinga Reddy, and MP Tejaswi Surya, on the 2.5-km long flyover, only 30% work is completed.

Earlier, Simplex Infra Private Ltd was awarded the contract for Ejipura Flyover. The company was blacklisted, and following Karnataka High Court orders, the government cancelled the contract in March 2022. Later in July 2023, the work was awarded to Hyderabad-based firm BSCPL Infrastructure Ltd.

BBMP Chief Engineer M Lokesh said that the project will be completed by December 2025. He agreed that the delay had escalated the project cost from Rs 170 crore to Rs 230 crore. Locals, however, say the project is unlikely to see the light of day before 2026.

Cut GST on flavoured milk to 5%: KMF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OFFICIALS from the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) held a meeting with Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda, who is the state's representative to the GST Council, demanding that the council make an amendment to the present system and reduce the GST on flavoured milk.

They also submitted a request to Gowda asking him to request the Centre to change the GST slab of flavoured milk — from beverage to dairy product category. This will reduce the GST from 12% to 5%.

The request was made following the recent Tamil Nadu High Court order which stated that flavoured milk is not a beverage.

Explaining the request, KMF chairman Bheema Naik said that a request has been made to reduce the GST for all milk-based products, especially flavoured milk.

GST Council had stated that since it has high sugar content, it was listed as a beverage. But flavoured milk has 1% sugar and is in multiple flavours. At present there are various slabs for various items and are listed in different categories, while ideally they are all dairy products.

He added that the KMF also informed that its a farmer union based firm and the different tax structures is only an additional burden.

KMF MD MK Jagadish said that orders of listing flavoured milk as a beverage was issued in 2019. "We have given a representation to reduce the GST as flavoured milk are dairy products.

The same has also been expressed by the Indian Council for Agricultural Research and the National Dairy Research Institute. So far, there is no GST on milk. We are hoping that this will be tabled in the coming GST council meeting and will be addressed. With this change, the KMF could save around Rs 30 crore annually," he said.

11th July: A recent radio programme, which some of you may have heard, claimed that astrology has some major wrong predictions on its records. True! However, I have to point out that way back in 2011 the great French astrologer André Barbault predicted a global pandemic for 2020, where the combined might of every other predictive system failed.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The important question of the moment is the degree to which you have been undervalued or taken for granted in the past. Actually, you haven't, but you feel as if you have, and in astrology it's often feelings which matter more than what really happens.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The general mix of planetary aspects is somewhat contradictory, and there are positive romantic indications as well as risky ones. It's all a matter of maintaining your cool, and building up your inner confidence. If you believe in yourself, then it's more likely that others will take you seriously.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
If you're stuck for the answers, turn to your imagina-tion. It may be that day-dreaming is actually one of the most productive of activities, for as your mind wanders, you'll see connections which have passed you by until now. Stay alert - and keep your eyes open.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The social scene should be lively, and you should begin to see a few invitations coming in. One way or another, it is time to raise your head above the parapet and get in touch with people you have neglected or ignored. You never know - you might get the response you're looking for.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mercury is lending you a fair degree of wit and a nice helping of wisdom, and you may imagine that your ideas are the best. However, you're now in a phase which could last until next week, and in which it will be instincts rather than facts which guide your actions.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may still be keeping certain thoughts to yourself, although you are being surprisingly open about your feelings. The best way to deal with partners is to compliment them at every turn, and do everything you can to make them feel good. You can only gain from performing a favour for a friend.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Moon is in a sympathetic relationship with your sign, so you should be able to glide through situations which would otherwise catch you out. Your expectations in all intimate relationships will be high, and you can but hope that they'll be met.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's an excellent day for looking beyond your own immediate concerns and building bridges to other people. Hold out the hand of friendship, even to those you've normally ignored, and you may be pleasantly surprised. If you do someone a favour you shouldn't expect thanks, now. That will come, but in its own good time.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's a changeable day, and although there might be moments when you imagine that you can do whatever you like, there'll be times when you remember that there's always a cost, sometimes an emotional one. You just have to work out whether the price is worth it.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You have a great deal going for you, more than you might imagine. Best of all, time is on your side, and you can afford to let sleeping dogs lie for as long as you wish. Return to the fray only when you are ready. You need to make quite clear who is the boss!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Personal matters are likely to be more important than profes-sional, so even if you're at work, your thoughts will be elsewhere. You may give children the chance to shine on their own, quite independently of what you think is right and proper. It might be better to set down guidelines rather than rules.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are undoubtedly practical choices to be made, but you may now be running into a period of delay, so patience will be your greatest virtue. If you're in a hurry to recreate a social contact, you may have to wait up to six weeks, perhaps even longer.

DEADLY DENGUE CATCHES HC ATTENTION

Court takes suo motu cognisance of spread of disease, seeks details from govt on 5 issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TAKING suo motu cognisance of the spread of dengue, resulting in deaths in Bengaluru and other parts of the state, the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday took up a public interest litigation (PIL) on the issue, based on media reports.

Issuing urgent notice to the chief secretary, secretary of the health and family welfare department, and commissioner of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), the high court directed them to furnish details on five issues -- preventive and remedial measures taken to check the spread of dengue in Bengaluru city and other districts of the state, including rural areas, steps taken to provide medical facilities, availability of infrastructure, steps taken to create public awareness, and to control mosquito breeding.

The division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice KV Aravind noted that the Right to Health is a necessary concomitant right flowing from Article 21 of the Constitution. "There also springs from the right to live in a healthy environment. A citizen is entitled to claim his fundamental right, the right to be free from dangers and perilous effects of any disease or pandemic on the way to spread in the society. There is a right to be treated with expert medicinal facilities and effective infrastructure, especially during the times while negotiating the threats from the disease".

After dictation of orders, Advocate General K Shashikiran Shetty submitted that the state government would appropriately respond to the petition. Recording the same, the court said that the authorities should file their replies and should be ready with their responses on July 23, the next date of the hearing.

HC asks state to file objections to Darshan's plea for home food, bed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday asked the state government to file objections, if any, on the petition filed by actor Darshan Thoogudeepa, accused in the Renukaswamy murder case, seeking directions to prison authorities to allow him to get home food, bed, books and newspapers.

Justice S R Krishna Kumar adjourned the matter to July 18 while asking the petitioner's counsel and the special public prosecutor to check whether prison rules permit allowing such a request, rulings if any in support of the petitioner's plea and whether the accused can directly approach the high court with such a petition instead of approaching the sessions court.

Before this, the special public prosecutor argued that accused involved in heinous offences like murder are not entitled to clothing and bedding from home. For home food, they have to submit representation to the Inspector General of Police for Prisons first, and if this is not considered, they have to approach the sessions court, he argued.

Darshan had stated that he lost weight and suffered food poisoning and diarrhoea as he was unable to digest the food served in the central prison at Parappana Agrahara.

Child marriage survivors say they were denied rights

AFNAN HAVELI @Bengaluru

THE Covid-19 pandemic, which took a toll of Karnataka's health infrastructure, led to some side-effects, chief among which was the rise in the number of child marriage.

As a generic approach is not enough to eradicate this social issue from its roots, a district-specific approach has been tailored for regions such as Bidar, Bagalkote, Belagavi, Chamarajanagar and Chikkaballapura. These districts are said to be regional movement units and cover 10 more districts adjacent to them.

The initiative, 'Strengthening Voices; Advocacy Training for Movement Leaders' by the Karnataka Forum Against Child Marriage brought forth survivors to share their personal stories and hardships to spread awareness about the problems faced by victims of child marriage.

One of the survivors, Priyanka Bodar, who is now part of Vidyaniketan NGO, represented the harsh realities faced by child brides as they were denied education and proper knowledge about their bodies. "I got married at the age of 16 and had four kids by the age of 20. I was denied education and rights to my body and freedom. Luckily, I was rescued by the NGO, which also provided me with education and self-confidence."

Similarly, Sudha from Bagalkote also shed light on the lack of basic amenities like proper sanitation in schools, which affected young girls' health and education. Nagmani from Chamarajanagar district spoke about how seeking dowry is an accepted practice, and the bride is expected to bring in a big amount.

"Initiatives like Mission Vatsalya safeguard vulnerable youth and lay emphasis on helplines such as 1098 and 112. They provide immediate support to individuals at risk," said MR Ravi, director, Integrated Child Protection Scheme. "We are coming up with action plans for districts that have a high rate of child marriage. About 48% of calls to the 1098 emergency helpline are related to child marriage. Hence, we have to empower and strengthen the helpline."

He also emphasized that teen mothers go through a lot of suffering, and added, "The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act is another issue that needs to be discussed with severity."

SIDDU DID NOT MENTION WIFE'S LAND IN POLL AFFIDAVIT, SAYS BJP, TO APPROACH ECI

MUDA acquired land in 1991, but CM's brother-in-law purchased, made gift deed in 2004, which is violation: Oppn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state BJP has decided to approach the Election Commission of India to raise the issue of alleged violation by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah by not declaring 3.16 acre of land at Kesare in Mysuru owned by his wife Parvati, while filing the affidavit to contest the 2013 Assembly elections.

It is said that the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) had acquired the land for developing a layout and allotted alternative sites to Parvati at upmarket Vijayanagar Layout in Mysuru. BJP is also planning a big protest in Mysuru on Friday. BJP state president BY Vijayendra said that not mentioning details about 3.16 acre of land is a violation of election rules. This is one of the biggest scams in the state and it runs into Rs 5,000 crore, he alleged.

MUDA allotted 42 alternative sites in June this year to various beneficiaries even after the deputy commissioner had filed a report on the alleged irregularities in the urban development authority, he said. "We are going to raise the issue in the coming legislature session,'' he added.

He alleged that the sites that were to be allotted to the poor and Scheduled Castes have been diverted to benefit a few people. The MUDA scam should not be handed over to another special investigation team like in other cases as it involves the chief minister and his wife. "We want a CBI probe. The chief minister should resign," he added.

He pointed out that MUDA started land acquisition process at Kesare in 1991, but Parvati's brother purchased 3.16 acres in 2004. "When the land was already in the possession of MUDA through acquisition, how could Parvati's brother purchase it and make a gift deed in her favour? How such a transaction was allowed? It seems to be fraudulent and misleading," he said.

Vijayendra alleged that documents from the sale deed in January 2022 revealed that under the MUDA incentive scheme, Parvati was illegally allotted 14 sites, instead of two that she was legally entitled to. If it is one acre of land, one site of 40x60 sqft dimension is given and if it is three to four acres, it should have been two sites, each measuring 40x60 sqft. She cannot get 14 sites," he said.

"The scam has revealed the true face of Siddaramaiah. Many rules have been violated to acquire high-value sites, and the CM has to provide an answer. He has to take responsibility for the scam," he said.

He alleged that Urban Development Minister Byrathi Suresh tried to hush up irregularities in MUDA.

50:50 scheme cancelled, MUDA decisions on hold, no CBI probe: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday brushed aside BJP's demand for a CBI probe into the 50:50 land allotment scam in the Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA), saying the government has appointed two IAS officers to probe irregularities and submit a report.

Claiming that the state officers are capable of conducting the investigation, he said the government will act tough against those involved in the scam. Siddaramaiah lost his cool when reporters asked him about the MUDA scam. He shot back saying, "How many times to tell you? Did he (district in-charge minister HC Mahadevappa) not clarify? You people are asking the same thing again and again."

He said the government has banned the 50:50 land allotment scheme at MUDA and kept in abeyance the decisions taken by the officials at the Authority. He said BJP is politicising the legal allotment of sites to his wife Parvati.

"We had neither sought sites in Vijayanagar, nor given an application. MUDA, which had illegally acquired the land, admitted its mistake and gave my wife alternative land. If your land is acquired will you not seek compensation," he asked.

He said a few people are trying to turn it into a controversy and he will reply to them in the House during the upcoming legislature session. Asked about the demand from local people's representatives, including Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, to rename Ramanagara as Bengaluru South, he said the cabinet will take a decision.

On Union Minister for Steel and JDS state president HD Kumaraswamy's warning that his party would restore the old name for the district if it comes to power, Siddaramaiah said it will not happen as JDS will not come back to power.

On the Enforcement Directorate (ED) raiding former minister B Nagendra in the SC/ST corporation fund misuse scam, he said ED is doing its duty.

CONGRESS MLC HAD RAISED MUDA ISSUE IN BELAGAVI SESSION ITSELF

BENGALURU: Amid the issue of alleged irregularities in the allotment of sites by MUDA, it has come to light that it was Congress MLC HP Sudham Das who had raised the matter during the 2023 winter session in Belagavi. But the government allegedly failed to initiate action against the erring officials, especially the commissioner. Das, a retired ED officer, had sought a reply from the government on the action the government had taken against the MUDA commissioner, as he was allegedly involved in the irregularities. "Why the commissioner was not booked with criminal charges or no action taken to replace him, despite his alleged involvement in the irregularities," he asked through a star question. In his reply, on December 12, 2023, Urban Development and Town Planning Minister Byrathi Suresh, had said that a technical committee was set up on July 2, 2022, which submitted its report on November 3, 2023. On the very next day, November 4, the DC was asked for a report and on November 27, he submitted the interim report, he said. Since it was incomplete, the DC was asked on December 4 to file a comprehensive and accurate report, he added. The minister claimed that showcause notices were being issued to the commissioner on November 4 and 20, 2023. "Based on the DC's and the committee's report, legal action will be taken," Byrathi Suresh had stated in his reply. "But since then, no action has been initiated against the accused commissioner," the MLC alleged. ENS

Siddu hits out at BJP for claims on funds, says guarantees here to stay

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

LASHING out at the Opposition for alleging that the five guarantee schemes launched by the government will be wound up, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said there is no dearth of funds for development works, and guarantee programmes will continue for five years. He said there are funds for budgetary programmes and the BJP, that had campaigned that the guarantee programmes cannot be implemented, is now alleging that they will be withdrawn.

Addressing a mammoth gathering to thank the people of Chamarajanagar Lok Sabha constituency for electing Congress candidate Sunil Bose, Siddaramaiah said he has disproved the jinx that a chief minister who visits Chamarajanagar district will demit office, and has become chief minister for the second time.

He said the BJP has not contributed anything for the development of Chamarajanagar, and should try to corner the government based on figures and not with a bundle of lies. Siddaramaiah said his government is based on justice to Dalits, backward communities, minorities and others by introducing social sector programmes, including the five guarantees. Recalling his 40-year-long association with the people of Chamarajanagar district, he said his government has implemented many development programmes and will take up many more.

Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa said his department has released Rs 300 crore for Chamarajanagar district to improve basic facilities in hostels, and assured that they would make united efforts to develop the constituency. Efforts are being made to revive sericulture, and bring in funds for development and generate jobs, he added.

He said that MP Sunil Bose has toured four constituencies in Mysuru district, and called on central ministers to bring a new railway project that connects Chamarajanagar with Sathyamangalam.

Mahadevappa said the people of T Narsipur have sent him a warning with a lead of less than 3,000 votes, while all other assembly segments have given him a comfortable lead of more than 25,000 votes.

Even ruling Cong MLAs against state govt's move

With the commission's intervention, opposition parties, especially the BJP, are likely to raise the issue during the monsoon session to begin on July 15. Under Section 7(C) of the SCSP/TSP Act, the government made a provision to divert funds meant for the welfare of SCs and STs to implement the guarantee schemes, claiming that most of the beneficiaries belong to these communities. For the general social sector schemes included in the sub plan, the allocation will be made in proportion to the SC/ST population, according to sources.

But MLAs, including those from the ruling Congress, are against the government's move as it has no data of SCs and STs benefiting from the guarantee schemes. "We will raise this issue in the coming session and ensure that SCSP/TSP funds are spent on the schemes for these communities. We will oppose the move to 'convert' 25.1% of the funds meant for them to implement the guarantee schemes," a senior legislator told TNIE.

Mistry heads Cong panel to study LS poll performance

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

SENIOR Congress functionary Madhusudan Mistry, heading a three-member team, has arrived in Bengaluru to find out the real reason - Satya Shodhana -- behind Congress' below-par performance in the Lok Sabha elections. While the party was expected to win 14-15 seats, it got only nine.

Mistry, and Lok Sabha members Gaurav Gogoi and Hibi Heden, who are also part of the team, will meet Congress Working Committee members, AICC office-bearers, sitting ministers, senior leaders, Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha members, MLAs, MLCs and a cross-section of leaders. They will try to find out how the party gave big leads to the opposition even in constituencies where party leaders are MLAs and ministers. They will ask leaders why the ministers who were given the responsibility of different constituencies underperformed.

The most obvious deduction is that JDS, which is in alliance with BJP, managed to transfer its votes to the saffron party in South Karnataka. But the team will go beyond that and try to find out how relatives of leaders were given tickets in such large numbers which reportedly upset party workers.

Ahead of the elections, it was common to hear from Congress workers that they were there only to work, while khandani party leaders were there to enjoy power. The massive leads that winning opposition candidates enjoyed can also be construed as anti-incumbency setting in against the state Congress government, barely a year after coming to power, some leaders said. Workers continue to complain that party leaders don't pick up calls from them or the media and if this continues, the party will not be able to do well in the upcoming zilla and taluk panchayat and BBMP elections. Former Rajya Sabha member L Hanumanthaiah said, "If the Congress leadership was serious, it have could have worked more thoroughly on all fronts and proactively settled issues of groupism which cost the party dear in places like Kolar.''

BJP MLA booked over 'slap Rahul' jibe

ENS @Mangaluru

KAVOOR police here have booked a case against Mangalore North BJP MLA Dr Y Bharath Shetty for allegedly making a provocative speech during a protest organised by the saffron party over Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi's statement on Hindus in Parliament.

Mangaluru City Police Commissioner Anupam Agarwal said Shetty has been booked under BNS Section 353(2), based on a complaint lodged by Congress corporator Anil Kumar. During a protest on Monday, Shetty had allegedly said that Rahul should be "locked and slapped inside Parliament". He had also allegedly said that "Hindus are ready to take up weapons if the need arises".

Meanwhile, KPCC working president Manjunath Bhandary told reporters on Wednesday that he will request Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara to initiate strict action against Shetty for his alleged attempt to incite violence. "The manner in which Shetty spoke about Rahul Gandhi makes all legislators from coastal Karnataka hang their head in shame. He has only joined the list of legislators who support violence and intimidate government officials," he said.

Bhandary maintained that Rahul did not insult anyone in his Parliament speech, and only said the Hindu religion doesn't support violence and that the religion does not belong only to RSS and BJP.

Ayesha Khanum is first woman to head Madhyama academy

BENGALURU: For the first time, a woman will head the Karnataka Madhyama Academy, after the state government appointed senior journalist Ayesha Khanum as its chairperson on Wednesday. The appointment is all the more significant, since Ayesha is also the first person from the minority community to hold the coveted post at the academy. According to the Chief Minister's Office, Ayesha's appointment tries to strike a gender and social balance. Ayesha hails from Kalaburagi district, which also brings about a regional balance. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah also approved the same. ENS @Puri/Bhubaneswar

THE Shree Jagannath Temple managing committee on Wednesday constituted a three-member panel to inquire into the reasons that led to the slipping of Lord Balabhadra on the 'charamala' of the chariot during 'Adapa Bije Pahandi' on Tuesday.

The incident was discussed at the managing committee meeting which was chaired by Gajapati Maharaj Dibyasingha Deb. While the woman was rescued by police in a critical condition near a pond in Khairpalli village on Wednesday and admitted to local hospital, one person has been arrested in this connection. She was raped by three persons. They dumped her near a pond in an unconscious state, she said. Though the reason behind the inhuman incident has not yet been ascertained, illegal ganja trade is suspected to have caused enmity between them. One person has been nabbed and being interrogated while raids are on to nab the other culprits, added Meena.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kurnool

AN eight-year-old girl, who went missing on Sunday, was allegedly raped and killed by three minors under the Muchhumarri police limits, Nandyal district, Andhra Pradesh. Based on the confession of the suspects, police have launched a search operation in the Krishna river backwaters.

According to police, the girl went missing on Sunday morning. She had gone to a playground near her house, but did not return even after a long time passed. Her parents then began searching for her, but in vain. Later, they filed a complaint with the police.

When the police, too, failed to trace the girl, they deployed sniffer dogs on Tuesday. Sources said police observed the suspicious behaviour of the three minor boys, who were wandering in the village, after the sniffer dogs were pressed into service.

Sources said one of three boys confessed to the crime and subsequently, the other two were also nabbed. The minor boys, aged between 11 and 15, reportedly admitted to taking the girl from the playground to the pump house on the outskirts of the village, and assaulting her. Afraid that the girl might complain against them, they killed her and dumped the body in the backwaters of River Krishna the same day. Police took the trio to the crime scene on Tuesday night, but could not take up search operations. On Wednesday, Nandyal district SP K Raghuveer Reddy formed five special teams with swimmers and launched search operations.

According to sources, police also found paraphernalia used for certain rituals and are inquiring if any black magic was performed at the pump house.

Nandyal MP Dr Byreddy Shabari reached the spot on Wednesday and instructed the police officials to take serious action against the accused. Nandikotkur MLA G Jayasurya was also present.

Addressing the media, Raghuveer Reddy said they will continue the search operation till the girl's body is traced. SDRF (State Disaster Response Force) teams have also been deployed to search for the body in the Krishna river with the help of five boats.

82.48% voter turnout in Vikravandi bypoll, counting on Saturday

KRITHIKA SRINIVASAN @Villupuram

BARRING minor hiccups, the by-election to the Vikravandi Assembly seat concluded peacefully on Wednesday with a turnout of 82.48%. Counting will take place on Saturday.

The bypoll was necessitated by the death of DMK MLA N Pugazhendi on April 6. The decision of the principal opposition party, the AIADMK, to boycott the race did not affect the turnout, which was comparable to the 82.45% votes polled in 2021, indicating the party's cadre had not stayed away.

Voting began at 7 am across the assembly segment, except at two booths where it was delayed due to ballot unit error. Residents in Kaanai protested the shutting of stores selling essential goods till shops were allowed to operate under police protection. Around 11 am, a 47-year-old woman, Kanimozhi, was assaulted by her ex-husband Elumalai (52) while waiting in queue at the booth in T Kosapalayam village. Villupuram SP Deepak Siwach said she was admitted to a private hospital. Elumalai was taken into custody.

PMK cadre and police got into an argument around 4 pm when the party's candidate C Anbumani was stopped from entering the Kakkanur polling booth. Once polls closed, ballot units were sealed and sent to strong rooms at the Panaiyapuram Government Higher Secondary School.

While DMK was expected to win the seat, the ruling party faced a major setback in the form of the Kallakurichi hooch tragedy. The PMK and NTK centred their campaign on alleged law and order failures of the state. The DMK, meanwhile, went all out, fielding over 10 ministers to campaign.

Tourists banned on Patla Betta after tiff with locals

BR UDAYA KUMAR @Hassan

Patla Betta is 40 km from Sakleshpur taluk in Hassan district | EXPRESS

THE Karnataka Forest Department has banned entry of tourists to Patla Betta, a hill station, in Sakleshpur taluk, Hassan district, following an attack on a tourist allegedly by drivers of local vehicles over taking private vehicles to the hill top recently. The department is working out strategies to protect the nature and put an end to the frequent tussle between the locals and the tourists. Patla Betta is 40 km from Sakleshpur town.

According to deputy conservator of Forests Sourab Kumar, the department is also planning to come up with guidelines in the interest of the tourists after conducting a joint survey of the forest by tourism and forest departments. The Forest Department is also thinking to introduce online booking for tourists visiting here in future.

A tourist from Subramnya in Dakshina Kannada district was assaulted allegedly by locals over visiting the hill station in own vehicle. Yesaluru police had registered a case against four people.

According to villagers, the tussle between the tourists and the drivers of the local vehicles are a common sight. However, it goes unnoticed as people fear the locals and shy away from lodging a complaint.

Meanwhile, Karantaka Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre has sought a detailed report from the DCF into the incident. Deputy Commissioner C Satyabhama said the district administration is planning to develop Patla Betta as a tourist spot by taking the locals into confidence.

Senior officials of forest and tourism departments have been directed to come up with a proposal to develop the spot with basic amenities without disturbing the forest.

Ravikumar, a native of Patla village at the foot of the hill, alleged that tourists have destroyed the hill station by taking their own vehicles to the hilltop. It would be better to frame guidelines and direct the local authority to maintain the tourist spots, he said.

New leave policy: Kochi cops can spend time with kin on special days

ABDUL NAZER MA @Kochi

BIRTHDAYS in their family, wedding anniversaries or a family function, Kochi city police personnel will be able to attend all such events and enjoy them to the fullest.

For, the city police, in an exemplary move, have decided to sanction leave liberally on such occasions to its officers, in a move aimed at ensuring proper life-work balance. The city police's decision to chart a new course comes amid concerns regarding high work pressure and rise in stress-induced suicides in the Kerala Police.

The new leave policy with 'five unquestionable off days' per year will let officers claim a leave for special occasions without any objections.

Kochi city police commissioner S Syamsundar instructed the welcome changes and allowed officers in the city limits to take leave on special days, including their or their family members' birthdays, wedding anniversaries, family functions, and so on. Those who could not avail even their entitled 15 casual off days can claim all their leaves, said a police source.

"I issued the directive in February after assuming office as the city police commissioner. However, it received wider appreciation recently following my speech during the inauguration of the police association's anniversary," said Syamsundar.

The move was proposed considering the officers' welfare, he said, adding, "As a force that works much more than eight hours, most officers can't even attend a special event in their family. Row over 15-year-old Che bust reaches Kochi corpn

AISHWARYA PRABHAKARAN @Kochi

IN 2009, Che Guevara Boys, an NGO formed by youths, installed a bust of the Cuban revolutionary, at the Chakkaraparambu division of the Kochi Corporation. Over the years, the bust gained prominence as an iconic landmark. However, for Chakkaraparambu resident K A Asharaf, the bust was an eyesore. He was displeased with the fact that it was placed right in front of his house.

For years now, Asharaf has been campaigning for the bust's removal, claiming it was erected on the land he owned and that it obstructed pedestrian and vehicular traffic. A few months ago, his complaint was submitted to the corporation.

In response, standing committee chairmen P R Ranish (development) and Sanilmon J (town planning), and division councillor K B Harshal inspected the site with the superintending engineer concerned.

"It was found the bust statue does not obstruct pedestrian or vehicular traffic. It is situated between two KSEB posts and, at first glance, the obstructions claimed by the complainant were not evident. Also, there are no authoritative documents or copies available to prove the land is owned by the complainant," said Ranish.

On the corporation secretary's directive, the report has been submitted before the council, which will take a call in its meeting on Friday. Jos PX, a member of Che Guevara Boys, said the group was formed by people having different political affiliations. "We are a group of people having different political ideologies and working for area's betterment. Despite Che Guevara being a prominent figure for the Leftist party, we admire him for his fight against imperialism and socio-economic inequality," he said.

Residents of Chakkaraparambu have submitted a petition to the corporation, requesting the bust not be removed as it has become synonymous with the area. "The complainant is trying to settle personal scores with youths of the area by demanding the bust's removal. He claimed it was installed on the land he gave to the corporation to ease traffic. However, he does not possess any proof of it, and as per records, it is 'poramboke' land," said Jos.

JOINT COMMAND, LOCAL ENGAGEMENT FOILS FOR JAMMU TERROR ATTACKS

FIVE Indian Army soldiers were killed and five injured on Monday in an ambush by militants in Badnota, a village about 80 km from Jammu’s Kathua district. The attack coincided with the eighth death anniversary of Burhan Wani, the poster boy of terrorist organisation Hizbul Mujahideen, who was killed in an encounter in 2016. This was the fourth militancy-related incident in J&K this month, in which six militants and two soldiers were killed in south Kashmir in separate encounters. The incidents came days after the new Chief of Army Staff General Upendra Dwivedi’s first visit to forward locations along the LoC in Poonch, where he reviewed anti-terror operations and arrangements for the Amarnath Yatra.

The Pakistan-backed militants’ shift in strategy to target security personnel and pilgrims in the Jammu division is new. They are expanding the area of conflict from the Valley to the Hindu-dominated Jammu, which till October 2021 was much quieter. Things changed after the abrogation of Article 370 in August 2019. Since October 2021, Jammu has witnessed a series of terror attacks that have claimed at least 43 lives, while Kashmir has experienced a gradual shift towards relative peace. The latest infiltration and attacks by well-trained, heavily-armed militants from across the border are timed to occur before the impending assembly elections in the Union territory.

The heightened militancy seeks to challenge New Delhi’s narrative of the return of normalcy to J&K after August 2019 and to create a sense of disquiet among the people who are looking forward to local representation in politics, employment opportunities and statehood. Militant attacks resulting in deaths give ammunition to the opposition, which is already questioning the Centre’s handling of security in J&K. If provocation continues, the ceasefire will be at stake.

Pakistan, roiled by severe political, economic and security troubles of its own, needs a face-saving diversion. There is nothing more useful for the Pakistani deep state than to bring Kashmir back to the table. It is a calculated risk they seem willing to take. So the Jammu region, with around 65 percent Hindu population, is their new playing field. For India, a joint command in J&K is a must for seamless coordination and accountability. Back-channel diplomacy and more engagement with locals must also be given a fair chance to prevent further escalation.

CITIZEN & GOVT ACTION CAN DEFEAT DENGUE

A surge in dengue cases has worried the Karnataka government, which has gone into combat mode with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah ordering deputy commissioners to constitute task forces in all 31 districts of the state to combat the disease. The state has recorded 7,382 cases this year with seven deaths and 303 patients in hospitals for treatment.

It should worry health authorities across India, which has, according to the National Centre for Vector Borne Diseases Control, seen a rise in dengue cases from 1,15,315 in 2019 to 2,89,235 in 2023, and 19,447 till April 30 this year. Dengue deaths have shot up from 166 in 2019 to 485 in 2023 and 16 till this April end. The disease is known to peak post September every year.

Dengue is not an infectious disease like Covid. That is probably why Siddaramaiah has refused to entertain appeals from experts to declare a medical emergency in the state. But the disease is worrisome as infections and deaths are increasing every year. The dengue virus is transmitted to humans through the bites of infected female mosquitoes, primarily the Aedes aegypti, which breeds in stagnant water. A worrying trend is that the breeding of this variety of mosquitoes, which was more common in urban areas, is now rapidly spreading in rural areas due to socio-economic and man-made ecological changes.

Siddaramaiah has done what any chief minister facing such a situation would do. He ordered increasing tests, adding clinics, constantly monitoring the infected, setting up special wards in district hospitals and medical colleges, and forming teams to monitor the situation. But that is not enough to completely knock out dengue. The disease surge is as much a failure of the common citizen as it is of the government. Disease management and prevention needs governmental measures as well as citizens’ participation.

People’s behaviour of roadside garbage dumping, hurling waste in vacant sites, allowing water accumulation at under-construction sites and ignoring water stagnation in neighbourhoods during rains needs to be ruthlessly curtailed. Strict enforcement is needed. Prohibitively steep fines should be levied on those contributing to our habit of littering public spaces with an apathetic attitude. We need to act now, before it gets out of hand and we end up with a health crisis to deal with.

QUICK TAKE

LESSONS FROM KOO’S DEMISE

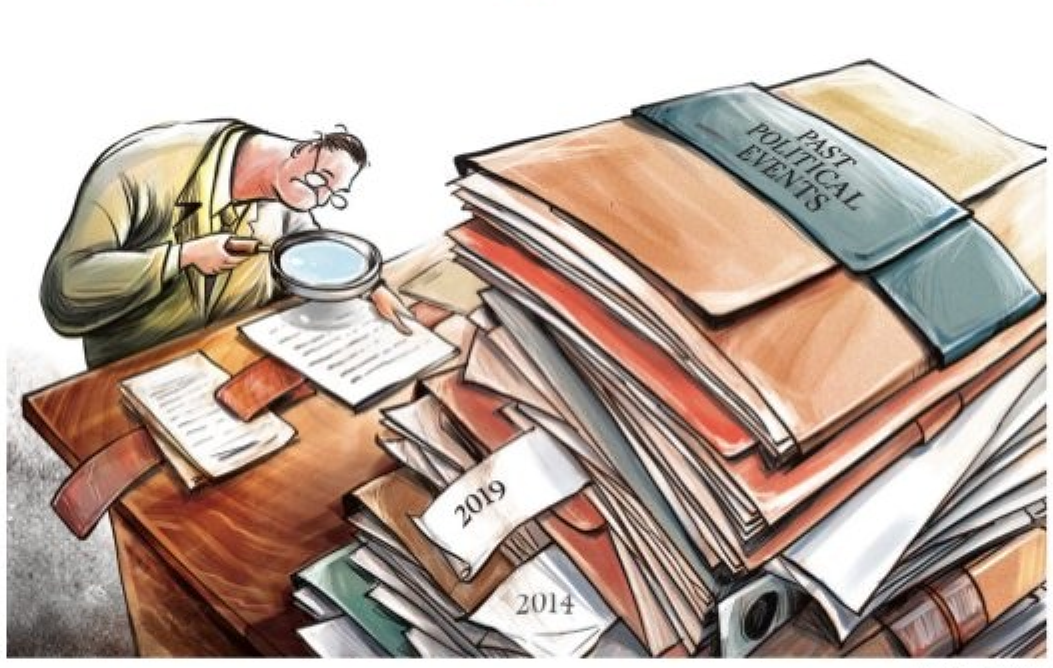
KOO is a bird that flew too close to its big rival. The only privately-promoted Indian social media platform to have crossed national boundaries recently announced its shutdown. The founders blamed the demise on failed partnership talks and high technology costs. Every big startup failure can be a case study for future entrepreneurs. While the floundering of PayTM and Byju’s can be pegged on founders’ hubris to an extent, Koo was too much of a copycat—down to choosing functionalities and a logo not far from those of segment behemoth X, formerly Twitter. Meanwhile, the need for a truly multilingual platform in a country unique for its variety of languages will remain.

Foreign diplomats in India have often missed the mark in predicting political outcomes here. Indian diplomats have been no less erratic in calling elections in their foreign stations

THE TROUBLE WITH PREDICTING POLLS IN FOREIGN LANDS

K P NAYAR

Strategic analyst



MANDAR PARDIKAR

FOR many ambassadors, deputy chiefs of mission and even political counsellors in Chanakyapuri, the national capital’s diplomatic enclave, life changed on June 4. The comfort zone they had become used to during their posting in New Delhi—usually lasting three years—disappeared overnight. For most of them, and their rotational predecessors going back to the summer of 2014, India had been a political theatre of certainties. Those certainties vanished overnight as results of the elections to the 18th Lok Sabha came in. Many of them were stunned, pretty much like unsuspecting Indians who watched television on June 1 and fell hook, line and sinker for the exit polls aired that night.

For 10 years, diplomatic missions in New Delhi sent unceasing reports to their headquarters about the rise and rise of Narendra Modi. There was an inevitable predictability about the fundamental premise of their reports: the dominance of the BJP over India’s political landscape, with the exception of a few outliers like Kerala and Tamil Nadu.

For a variety of reasons, Kolkata is on the early itinerary of almost every important head of mission who is newly credentialled to Rashtrapati Bhavan. Numerous political counsellors from Chanakyapuri went to West Bengal before the 2019 Lok Sabha elections to prepare for visits by their bosses. They correctly predicted that the BJP would replace the Congress and the Left as the foil for the state’s ruling Trinamool Congress.

The Seven Sisters of the northeast were no exceptions for the most part. Visiting diplomats have a special interest in the region because of its crucial geography or controversial proselytisation drives by Christian missionaries. Many of these missionaries are compatriots of the diplomats who visit the northeast. Embassies and high commissions, which reported a consolidation or furtherance of the BJP’s gains made in Bengal five years ago, will now have to live down their predictions on the recent elections to superiors back home. These pro-BJP assertions were couched in certainties.

Such certainties provided ample time to Delhi-based foreign envoys to attend literary festivals, which have proliferated across India in recent years. Some of them have used such forums to promote their books—works of fiction or nature, since they don’t write about their profession while in service. Germany’s ambassador danced in old Delhi’s Chandni Chowk last year to the tunes of the Oscar-winning song ‘Naatu naatu’, and made it to every newspaper in the national capital. South Korea’s envoy and his entire team did the same with that hit song from the Telugu film RRR, but confined such soft power display to their mission compound. After the video of their performance attracted 1.2 million views, according to BBC, Modi tweeted from his official account that it was a “lively and adorable team effort”. Not to be left behind, the ambassador of superpower US danced to a Bollywood number at his embassy’s Diwali celebrations last year. He broke from his two allied colleagues and chose a Shah Rukh Khan number, ‘Chhaiyya chhaiyya’.

It is not unusual for ambassadors in New Delhi to be old India hands. Several of them have served in this country as junior diplomats, some of them stayed for months as backpackers soon after graduation. A few others have sought a second posting as ambassador because of their love for India. In the last decade, these Indophiles have recalled in private conversations what a nightmare it used to be to report on India for their governments back home.

There was never a dull moment in India, but everything was fraught with uncertainties—V P Singh’s Mandal experiments and the attendant violence, musical chairs with Rajiv Gandhi pulling the rug from under the non-Congress prime minister’s feet, Atal Bihari Vajpayee’s 13-day government, and the unstable H D Deve Gowda-I K Gujral years. Many diplomats who had to toil hard during those periods have had a good time at work since Modi came to power with an absolute majority.

But no more, from last month. By and large, India had become ‘Congress-mukt’ and chanceries could afford to ignore the rest of the opposition because other parties were considered irrelevant. Embassies in New Delhi are now delving into their archives and dusting up old files that they thought would never be needed.

There are missions that are exceptions to this rule, but they can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Russia is one such. In February 2023, from the highest levels in Moscow, it was conveyed to equally high levels in New Delhi that it was Russia’s assessment that the just-concluded elections would not be a cakewalk for the BJP. This was 16 months ago. The Russians, of course, gave their convoluted interpretations for such a conclusion. The Kremlin cautioned its Indian interlocutors that a conspiracy was being hatched in Washington to destabilise India and the Modi government. Such an alarm was sounded at least twice more last year.

Russia has done this before. In December 1979, then Prime Minister Charan Singh severely admonished Yuli Vorontsov, the Soviet Union’s then ambassador, the day after Soviet troops marched into Kabul. An unfazed Vorontsov told Singh he had already talked to Indira Gandhi, who had shown an understanding of Moscow’s compulsions. Indira Gandhi became prime minister soon thereafter.

In empathy with resident ambassadors in Chanakyapuri, it must be said that the shoe is on the other foot as well. Indian diplomats are notorious for having predicted wrong election results in countries where they have been posted. Not once, not twice, but over many successive decades.

In 1992, Indian diplomats in Washington blithely assumed George H W Bush would be re-elected president and did not even bother to make connections in the victor Bill Clinton’s team. They never learned from that experience. In 2000, they assumed Vice President Al Gore would win. When George W Bush defeated Gore, Vajpayee had to rush his top foreign policy aide, Brajesh Mishra, to the US to make contacts in the Republican camp.

On a personal note, the only Indian foreign affairs expert who told this writer in 2016 that Donald Trump would win the US presidential election was Hardeep Singh Puri, now a Union cabinet minister. He was then a private citizen living in New York.

WHY COURTS CAN RULE ON ESSENTIAL RELIGIOUS PRACTICES

A FAIZUR RAHMAN

Secretary-General, Islamic Forum for the Promotion of Moderate Thought

THE Madras High Court’s May 2024 judgement in P Naveen Kumar vs District Collector, Karur & Others has revived the debate on what in India is called the essential religious practices test. The single-judge ruling allowed angapradakshinam, the practice in which devotees roll over banana leaves on which other devotees have partaken food.

Some legal scholars argue judges should not assume the role of clergy to determine theological issues to either permit or curtail the freedom to “irrational” beliefs.

Without going into the merits of the case above, it may be pointed out courts in India adjudicate on contentious religious practices only when their intervention is sought under Articles 32 or 226 of the Constitution. If courts in the past subjected certain religious practices to the essentiality test, it was only because those traditions, apart from not being essential to their faith, were violating the Constitution.

For instance, in the triple talaq case, Justices Nariman and U U Lalit—two of the three judges who delivered the majority judgement—showed us how it is possible to harmonise the concepts of constitutional justice and Islamic egalitarianism without undermining the religious freedom guaranteed in Article 25(1).

On the one hand, they pronounced talaq-e-biddat to be “manifestly arbitrary” and violative of Article 14 because it allowed a Muslim man to break his marriage “capriciously and whimsically” without attempting to save it through reconciliation. On the other, the judges endorsed the comprehensive Quranic procedure of divorce—already upheld by the Supreme Court in the Shamim Ara case (2002), which gives a Muslim husband no room to arbitrarily exercise his right to divorce.

As is evident, the top court was not trying to reform Islam, but only verifying if a certain controversial legal custom was really a part of Islam and, if so, was it compatible with the provisions of the Constitution. Talaq-e-biddat was set aside because it failed this test, and the Quranic procedure of talaq was upheld because it aligned with constitutional values.

Put differently, even essential religious practices cannot violate Constitution to be recognised as a fundamental right. Else, the clause in Article 25—“subject to public order, morality and health and to other provisions of [Part III of the Constitution]”—will cease to be of any meaning.

To uphold a person’s decisional autonomy some cite Bijoe Emmanuel & Others vs State of Kerala (1986), in which the Supreme Court ruled that even if a religious belief or practice does not appeal to anyone’s reason or sentiment, it would attract the protection of Article 25 if it is “genuinely and conscientiously held as part of the profession or practice of religion”.

The idea is to point out that a religious practice may be allowed based on an individual’s conscientious belief without subjecting it to the essentiality test where belief is primarily ascertained with reference to community-endorsed doctrines of the religion, as laid down by the Supreme Court in Shirur Mutt (1954) and in Srimad Perarulala Ethiraja Ramanuja Jeeyar Swami vs State of Tamil Nadu (1972).

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

> Judicial intervention might be needed in a secular democracy to protect individual rights within a community, just like the Supreme Court did in the triple talaq case. Philosopher Will Kymlicka calls this the idea of ‘rational revisability’ that gives believers the right to revise existing conceptions of faith

However, religious communities are almost always controlled by patriarchs who decide what constitutes an essential religious practice and impose it on all followers without giving them the freedom to dissent. And dissent is often construed as apostasy or blasphemy, and punished.

Hence the need for judicial intervention in a secular democracy to protect individual rights within a community. Otherwise, the freedom of conscience available to reformists within a religious group to challenge outdated doctrines and authoritarian edicts will be seriously compromised.

Political philosopher Will Kymlicka calls this, citing John Rawls, the idea of “rational revisability” that gives believers the right to rationally evaluate and revise existing conceptions of faith. Kymlicka’s fear is fundamentalist religious groups often feel threatened by liberalism’s emphasis on autonomy, and therefore, try to raise their children in such a way as to minimise the opportunities for them to develop or exercise the capacity for rational revisability. The ultimate goal, says Kymlicka, is to ensure that members are indeed ‘embedded’ in the group, unable to conceive of leaving it or to succeed outside of it.

For these reasons, the higher judiciary, being the final arbiter of disputes under Articles 32 and 226, cannot be asked to refrain from intervening in questions of faith because its withdrawal from the adjudication of religious matters would be fraught with grave consequences. It would leave the field wide open for the patriarchal clergy to take over.

Justice D Y Chandrachud grappled with this question in the Sabarimala case. After citing legal scholars opposed to the idea of courts donning a reformatory role through the essential religious practices doctrine, he homed in on the anti-exclusion principle which limits the autonomy of religious groups “in situations where these groups are blocking access to basic goods”. Agreeing with this precept, the justice held that “where a religious practice causes the exclusion of individuals in a manner which impairs their dignity. The freedom of religion must give way to the over-arching values of a liberal constitution”.

Ideally, religious institutions would appreciate the constitutional vision of equality, justice and rationality, and reform themselves internally. But the courts cannot be expected to wait till this happens.

Reservation effect

Ref: A cap that is refusing to fit all heads (Jul 10). Why are reservations still in place? What percentage of the population is still considered marginalised? When the system works on eradication of backwardness, it should result in improvement and lead to a decrease in the reservation percentage. When this does not happen, it indicates the system is defective.

K Venkatasubramanian, Coimbatore

Periyar’s role

The author mentioned the role of K Kamaraj in Tamil Nadu’s reservation policies. I would like to point out that the mass agitation was led by social revolutionary Periyar E V Ramasamy when the Madras High Court struck down the original order in 1950. Students, teachers, traders and the common people of Tamil Nadu rallied behind him. The constitutional amendment came about because the Nehru government realised the gravity of the situation after the agitation went on for over a year.

Feisty dissent

The majority ruling of the Supreme Court of the US amounted to mocking logic and the law. Justice Sonia Sotomayor’s feisty dissent deserves rich encomiums. With its decision, the SCOTUS had effectively lowered the esteem of the US judiciary in the eyes of the world.

Taxpayers’ travails

Russia ready to accept PM line to end Ukraine conflict

Peace is most important, solution can't be found on battlefield: Modi

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIA is likely to have peace with Ukraine as indicated by President Vladimir Putin's response to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's stance of finding a solution to the conflict through dialogue and diplomacy.

"We would like to have peace with Ukraine, as PM Modi has oft mentioned, through dialogue and diplomacy. In fact, on June 14th President Putin said he wanted to end the conflict with Ukraine provided Ukraine promised to be neutral, non-nuclear and recognised the territories that have been acquired by Russia,'' said Russia's Charge d' Affaires Roman Babushkin on Wednesday.

During his visit to Russia, Modi has told Putin that peace is "of utmost importance" and a solution to the war in Ukraine "cannot be found on the battlefield". Putin praised Modi for his efforts to find a peaceful solution to the conflict.

Russia has also said the peace summit that was held in Switzerland was a "tamasha" as Moscow was not part of it. Russia says that Ukraine isn't owning up to its mistakes it is doing at the behest of the US.

"The US should stop interfering in other countries' internal matters. The world's focus was suddenly on PM Modi and his visit to Moscow. Russia and India have been long-term friends and there isn't anything unusual about it. It was the West again that drew inferences on Russia's growing proximity with China as being a reason for PM Modi's visit. Which isn't true. Russia, India and China have emerged as a strong bloc in Eurasia and that is not going down well with them,'' Babuskin said.

Russia and China are friends. There is a border dispute between India and China but that will be resolved in time as these three countries have to forge their ties, he said.

It is learnt that the families of four Indians, who died while working as helpers with the Russian army, have been compensated by Russia and offered citizenship. Others still stuck in Russia are in the process of being sent back.

"The issue of recruitment of Indian helpers in the Russian army has been politicised for no reason. Russia doesn't want Indian soldiers to fight, these men have come in illegally possibly due to the lure of money. We are on the side of the Indian government and hope that this issue is resolved at the earliest,'' Babuskhin added.

'Rights upheld': Activists hail verdict

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

'Paving the way for equal legal rights'

Zakia Soman, women's right activist and co-founder of Bharatiya Muslim Mahila Andolan , said that such progressive judgments will pave the way forward for equal legal rights of Muslim women within marriage and family. "With such judgments, we should celebrate because it is like a march forward," Soman said. Soman said that a grave injustice and an anomaly have been corrected by the SC with this judgment.

HAILING the Supreme Court ruling that divorced Muslim women are entitled to maintenance under the Section 125 of the CrPC, several rights activists on Wednesday said that the verdict will have positive implications on the rights of Muslim women in the country.

In its ruling, the apex court said maintenance is not charity but the right of married women and it is applicable to all married women irrespective of their religion.

Speaking to this newspaper, Zakia Soman, women's right activist and co-founder of Bharatiya Muslim Mahila Andolan , said that such progressive judgments will pave the way forward for equal legal rights of Muslim women within marriage and family. "With such judgments, we should celebrate because it is like a march forward," Soman said.

"In the ruling, Justice Nagarathna has unequivocally said that all married women are entitled to maintenance and that includes Muslim women. The clear messaging is that no woman can be barred on account of religion," she said.

Soman, one of the petitioners in the Supreme Court behind the abolition of triple talaq, said that a grave injustice and an anomaly have been corrected by the SC with this judgment.

"In the Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Divorce) Act 1986, a Muslim woman's right to maintenance under 125 CrPC was snatched away. It was a restrictive Act. It has been corrected today," she said.

Under Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Divorce) Act 1986, in response to the Shah Bano judgment of 1985, a Muslim woman can seek maintenance only during iddat – 90 days after the divorce. "90 days is a very short period. A woman may not be, you know, she cannot be standing up on her feet within 90 days of divorce," said Soman.

"Now if a woman decides to file a case under the secular Section 125 CrPC, there is no stopping her after this judgment," she added.

The court said, "This right transcends religious boundaries, reinforcing the principle of gender equality and financial security for all married women."

"Some husbands are not conscious of the fact that the wife, who is a homemaker, is dependent on them emotionally and in other ways. Time has come for Indian men to recognise the indispensable role and sacrifices made by housewives for the family," it added.

In his appeal, the petitioner Abdul Samad argued that the 1986 Act was a special law and a divorced Muslim woman's application for maintenance under Section 125 was not maintainable.

Hasina Khan, founder of Bebaak Collective, told this paper that the verdict ensured that all divorced Muslim women are entitled to a decent maintenance. "It is a historic ruling because the court said that maintenance is not a matter of charity but a fundamental right of married women. This will be a setback to the conservative section which doesn't want women to get alimony under a secular law," she said.

"Women will also get a dignified space to negotiate," said Khan, adding that the ruling will ensure that divorced Muslim women get substantial alimony.

Rekha Sharma, chairperson of the National Commission for Women, has welcomed the judgment. "NCW Chairperson, Ms. Rekha Sharma, wholeheartedly welcomes the Supreme Court's landmark ruling affirming the right of Muslim women to seek maintenance under Section 125 of the CrPC. This decision is a significant step towards gender equality and justice for all women," the panel said in a post on X.

100 convicted in fake currency, terror cases in 18 months: NIA

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

MORE than 100 accused have been convicted in terrorism and fake Indian currency notes (FICN) cases, among others, under provisions of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) in 18 months, officials quoting the data prepared by the National Investigation Agency said on Wednesday.

According to the data, the NIA managed to get 79 accused convicted in 27 cases in 2023, followed by 26 in six cases in which the special courts pronounced their verdicts in the first half of 2024.

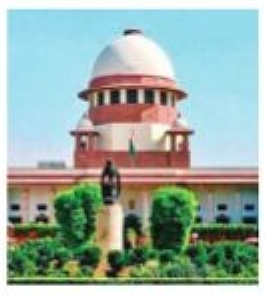
If the five-year period (2019-24) is taken, the number of accused convicted in the various NIA cases has gone up to 354.

The officials said the convictions have come in 100 cases, from among 103 cases under trial by the NIA special courts during this period. From January 2023 till date, 18 convictions have been secured in FICN cases, they added. This is followed by 15 accused being sentenced in IS-related cases as a result of NIA crackdown on the terror network's attempts to spread its wings in India.

CBI operates under Centre's control: SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday held that as per the law, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) functions under the administrative control of the Union government and rejected the Centre's objections to the maintainability of a lawsuit filed by the West Bengal government.



The West Bengal government had filed a lawsuit against the Centre alleging that the CBI is pressing ahead with its investigation into post-election violence in the state without securing the state government's prior approval. The West Bengal government had withdrawn general consent for the CBI to probe cases or conduct raids in the state.

The Centre had objected to the maintainability of the state's lawsuit against it, arguing that the CBI is an independent statutory body, and therefore, the Centre cannot be sued in the matter.

A two-judge bench of the top court, led by Justice B R Gavai and Justice Sandeep Mehta, said as per provisions of the Delhi Special Police Establishment (DSPE) Act, 1946, the CBI functions under the administrative control of the Union government, and thus, the West Bengal government's lawsuit is maintainable.

"In our view, the CBI is an organ or a body which is established by and which is under the superintendence of the Government of India in view of the statutory scheme as enacted by the DSPE Act," the court held.

The court said a reading of the DSPE Act would reveal that right from the constitution of the special police force, which is called DSPE, issuance of notifications specifying the offences or classes of offences which are to be investigated by it, superintendence and administration of DSPE and extension of powers and jurisdiction of DSPE to areas beyond the Union Territories, "it is the Central government which is vitally concerned with".

Judge recuses himself from hearing of pleas on same-sex case

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

SENIOR-most Supreme Court judge Sanjiv Khanna on Wednesday recused himself from considering pleas seeking review of the apex court's judgement last year declining legal recognition to same-sex marriage, sources said.

According to the sources, Justice Khanna has cited personal reasons for his recusal.

The recusal of Justice Khanna would necessitate reconstitution of a fresh five-judge constitution bench by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud for considering the review pleas.

The top court on Tuesday had refused to allow open court hearing of pleas seeking review of its last year's judgement.

In a setback to gay rights activists, a five-judge constitution bench headed by Chandrachud had on October 17 last year refused to accord legal backing to same-sex marriage, saying there was "no unqualified right" to marriage with the exception of those that are recognised by law.

Vikravandi in TN records highest 82% turnout, violence in U'khand & Bengal

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

Voters show their ink-marked fingers during Maniktala assembly bypoll in Kolkata

AMID sporadic incidents of violence in Uttarakhand and West Bengal, the bypolls to 13 constituencies across seven states recorded moderate to brisk polling on Wednesday.

The bypolls are said to be a litmus test for both the ruling NDA and the Opposition INDIA bloc coming close after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections in which the BJP failed to secure a majority on its own.

In West Bengal, violence was reported in Bagdah and Ranaghat Dakshin assembly segments as the BJP accused TMC activists of assaulting its booth agents and stopping its candidates from visiting some polling stations. BJP candidates Manoj Kumar Biswas and Binay Kumar Biswas claimed they were not allowed to visit some booths.

Manoj Kumar Biswas alleged that BJP camp offices in some areas were ransacked by the TMC. Out of the four seats, election to three seats in West Bengal was necessitated after the BJP MLAs jumped ship to the Trinamool Congress (TMC). The BJP has lodged a complaint with the Election Commission against alleged violent incidents, though the TMC dubbed them "baseless".

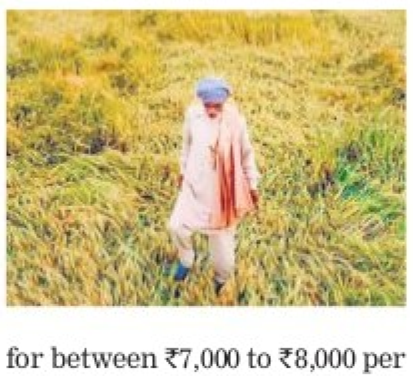
In Uttarakhand's Manglaur constituency, four people were injured in a clash between rival parties at a polling booth. Though there were reports of firing at a booth, police denied the reports. Several Congress leaders, including former chief minister Harish Rawat, and Congress MP from Saharanpur Imran Masood condemned the violence. While Manglaur recorded 67.28% till 5 pm, Badrinath reported 47.68% polling.

In the high stake contest in Himachal Pradesh, the Nalagarh assembly constituency recorded the highest polling percentage of 75.22 till 5 pm, followed by Hamirpur at 65.78 and Dehra at 63.89. In Dehra, Congress' Kamlesh Thakur, wife of Himachal Pradesh CM Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu is pitted against the BJP's Hoshiyar Singh. The three seats fell vacant after as many independent MLAs switched over to the BJP.

The Vikravandi assembly constituency in Tamil Nadu recorded the highest voter turnout of 82.48%, according to the Election Commission. In the triangular contest in Vikravandi, the ruling DMK is pitted against PMK and NTK. In Punjab, the bypoll to the Jalandhar West assembly segment saw a voter turnout of 51.30%. In Bihar, a voter turnout of 51.14% was recorded till 5 pm in the bypoll to Rupauli Assembly seat.

Mann move forces farmers to sell moong below MSP

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh



Mixed blessing

Farmers view the record-high moong cultivation as a mixed blessing, helping mitigate losses despite selling below MSP. One of the farmers cultivated moong on 32 acres and sold his produce to private players at ₹7,800 to ₹8,000 per quintal. He reported a yield of 4 to 5 quintals per acre this year, down from 6 quintals.

WITH the highest-ever area under moong (green gram) cultivation in Punjab this year — three times more than last year— farmers have been left in a lurch, forced to sell their crop below the Minimum Support Price (MSP) to private players. The AAP-led Punjab government has not purchased a single grain of moong this year, despite previous promises to support the crop under the crop diversification plan.

Sources in the agriculture department revealed that moong was sown on 67,000 hectares across the state this year, a significant increase from the 23,000 hectares last year.

The moong purchase season began at the end of May or June 1 and will continue until July 31. However, only 26,966 metric tonnes (MT) of moong have arrived in mandis (grain markets) across the state, all of which were bought below the MSP by private players. These private buyers purchased the produce for between ₹7,000 to ₹8,000 per quintal, while the MSP announced by the Union Government is ₹8,555 per quintal.

According to sources, the Punjab State Cooperative Supply and Marketing Federation Limited (MARKFED) did not receive a notification from the state agriculture department to procure moong for the central pool. Despite the promotion of summer moong cultivation over the past two years and previous procurement activities by MARKFED, no such actions were taken this year.

Last year, MARKFED procured 2,500 MT of moong for the central pool without relaxed specifications.

Prices of pulses softening amid forecast of good rain

Market dynamics

The govt said it has taken various measures to balance market dynamics while supporting both farmers and consumers. Department of Consumer Affairs said a significant number of farmers are coming forward for pre-registration through government agencies such as NAFED to sell their crops timely.

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

GOOD rainfall has increased the sowing acreage of pulses, which has softened the price, especially of Urad dal.

According to the government, the wholesale prices of Urad have witnessed a week-on-week decline of 3.12% in Indore and 1.08% in Delhi markets, respectively. Moreover, in alignment with domestic prices, the landed prices of imported Urad are also on a declining trend. Urad pulses are mostly grown in Madhya Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, UP, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, and Maharashtra.

Data shows that the overall pulses sowing acreage has sharply increased, anticipating good rainfall. By the end of June, India experienced a deficit of around -11% in rainfall since the monsoon set in on May 30. However, in 10 days, cumulative monsoon rainfall has reached normal levels.

The improvement in monsoon rainfall has started reflecting in the sharp increase in the sowing areas of pulses. There is a significant increase in pulses cultivation by over 50%, raising hopes to mitigate the pulses crisis that has led to higher prices. The country has been witnessing a shortfall in the production of pulses for the past two years, leading to an increase in domestic prices.

The pulses sowing area has increased by 55%, reaching 36.81 lakh hectares (LHa) from 23.78 LHa a year ago as of June 8. The Urad pulses sowing area increased by 46%, reaching 5.37 lakh hectares compared to 3.67 in the corresponding period last year. The 90-day crop is expected to experience a healthy Kharif production this year.

Bodies of 3 Army men recovered after 9 months

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Army has recovered bodies of its three personnel lost in an avalanche during a mountaineering expedition in Ladakh last year.

The mountaineers of the High Altitude Warfare School (HAWS) have launched an operation to retrieve the bodies of three Havildar instructors who were buried under a deadly avalanche in October 2023. In July 2023, a 38-member mountaineering expedition from HAWS had set out to conquer Mount Kun in the Union Territory of Ladakh. While fixing ropes on a snow wall, the team was struck by a sudden avalanche on October 8, on the Fariabad Glacier. Four members were caught in the deadly slide.

The team could only recover the body of Lance Naik Stanzin Targais. The bodies of Havildar Rohit, Havildar Thakur Bahadur Ale, and Naik Gautam Rajbanshi remained buried under layers of snow and ice.

HAWS launched a rescue mission, codenamed Operation RTG, on June 18, 2024. The rescue expedition consisted of 88 expert mountaineers. A road head camp was established about 40 kms short of Khumbathang. Two helicopters were also placed on standby to ferry the bodies and evacuate the rescue team, if needed. A base camp was also established a few kms away from the site.

The first significant breakthrough came when the mortal remains of Havildar Rohit Kumar (Dogra Scouts) were found about 30 ft of snow on July 4. The body of Havildar Thakur Bahadur Ale (Gorkha Rifles) was recovered on July 7. On July 8, the mortal remains of Naik Gautam Rajbanshi (Assam Regiment) were also found. The mortal remains have been transported to respective families, with full military honours.

Brigadier SS Shekhawat, the Deputy Commandant of HAWS, personally led the search operation.

AMARNATH

Amid heavy rains, more than 4,600 pilgrims left Jammu city in the early hours of Wednesday for the twin base camps in Kashmir to join the annual Amarnath Yatra, officials said.

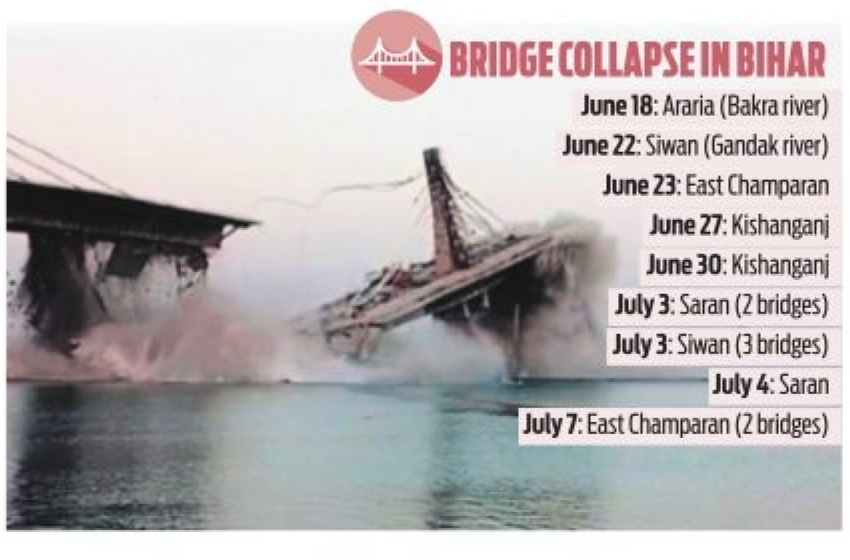
Yet another bridge crashes in Bihar

13th such incident in state in less than 3 wks; no casualties reported

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna



BRIDGE COLLAPSE IN BIHAR
June 18: Araria (Bakra river)
June 22: Siwan (Gandak river)
June 23: East Champaran
June 27: Kishanganj
June 30: Kishanganj
July 3: Saran (2 bridges)
July 3: Siwan (3 bridges)
July 4: Saran
July 7: East Champaran (2 bridges)

ANOTHER bridge collapsed in Bihar on Wednesday, making it the 13th such incident in the state in less than three weeks. However, there was no report of any injury or death in the latest incident, which took place in Saharsa district earlier in the day.

Officials of Saharsa district administration said that a small bridge collapsed at Mahisi village under the same police station limit on Wednesday. "A team of officials has been sent to the site to assess the situation. It could be a small bridge," additional collector Jyoti Kumar said.

Deputy collector Kumar said that the cause of the incident is yet to be ascertained. "We are waiting for the preliminary report from the site. We will share relevant information with the media once the preliminary report is submitted to us," he told the media.

The video of the bridge getting washed away due to heavy flow of flood water in Saharsa district also went viral on social media. It was built by JD(U) MLA Ratnesh Sada from his fund in 2010.

Local residents said that the bridge connected Balia Samar and Kundah village under Mahisi block and Darhar and Sattaur under Navhatta block of Saharsa district. It was built by the road construction department on the initiative of Sada, who is now a minister in Nitish Kumar cabinet.

The people living in Mahisi and Nauhatta blocks have to face trouble due to collapse of the bridge, the only road connecting these block headquarters to National Highway-17.

Mahisi circle officer Anil Kumar said that efforts were on to restore communication after repair of collapse portion of the bridge within 48 hours.

On Friday, the state government suspended 16 engineers, including 11 from water resources department and five from rural works department, for their gross negligence, which led to fall of 12 bridges and culverts in a span of 17 days. Additional chief secretary of water resources department Chaitanya Prasad said that the state government has taken serious note of collapse of a series of bridges and culverts in recent past and initiated disciplinary action against erring engineers.

Last week, the state government implemented bridge maintenance policy in the state with an aim to keep the bridges and culverts under surveillance and obtain up-to-date status report from the department concerned.

The collapse of bridges in a short span has given an armoury to opposition leaders to attack chief minister Nitish Kumar. RJD leader and former deputy chief minister Tejashwi Prasad Yadav sarcastically said, "This is a gift of double engine government to the people of Bihar."

Nitish offers to touch engr's feet to expedite work

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR Chief Minister Nitish Kumar once again created a flutter in political and bureaucratic circles when he offered to touch a project engineer's feet to expedite a pending project in the state capital on Wednesday.

The incident took place during a function organised to dedicate a stretch of 'JP Ganga Path', an expressway along the Ganga to the public. Kumar asked the official to ensure that the work was completed by yearend. "Kahiye to hum aapka pair chhu lete hain (I will touch your feet if that is what you want)," he remarked, leaving the official in a piquant situation.

On June 4, Nitish offered to touch a senior IAS officer's feet, requesting him to settle land disputes at the earliest. Taking a dig at the CM, RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav shared a video footage of the incident and released a statement on social media.

Tejashwi claimed, "There is no CM in the world as helpless, powerless and uncommon as Nitish Kumar who talks about folding hands and touching feet in front of BDOs, SDOs, police officers, senior officials, and employees of contractors."

BMW hit-and-run accused's father sacked by Shinde

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A Mumbai court on Wednesday remanded Mihir Shah, the prime accused in the BMW hit-and-run case, to police custody till July 16, while the ruling Shiv Sena sacked his father Rajesh Shah as party deputy leader.

The Mumbai civic body demolished unauthorised construction and alterations at a local bar that Mihir visited.

Mihir, 24, was arrested on Tuesday, two days after he allegedly rammed his BMW car into a two-wheeler, killing a woman and leaving her husband injured.

Mihir was produced in Sewree court where police had sought his "maximum possible custody", arguing that he tried to destroy evidence after the accident and evade arrest by altering his appearance — trimming hair and shaving beard — to mislead investigators.

Police told the court it needs Mihir's custody to find out how he managed to evade arrest for over 72 hours and identify all those, including family members, who helped him. Shah also needs to be questioned, the police said, about the vehicle's ownership details.

Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde assured strict action against the guilty in the BMW case and announced ₹10 lakh aid for the victim's family. Mihir admitted to driving the luxury sedan when it rammed a two-wheeler in Worli Sunday, killing 45-year-old Kaveri Nakhawa and injuring her husband.

However, he denied reports he was drunk. CM Shinde, who heads the Shiv Sena, sacked Rajesh Shah as the party's deputy leader. Rajesh, however, continues to be a member of the Shiv Sena. Shinde said there was no question of supporting anyone and no one would be spared.

"Whoever is guilty will not be spared; strict action will be taken against them," Shinde told reporters.

According to the police, the victim Kaveri Nakhwa was dragged for around 1.5 km by the speeding car before Mihir pulled it over, swapped seats with his driver Rajrishi Bidawat and fled in another vehicle. The driver allegedly ran over her while reversing the BMW.

Pappu Yadav campaigns in favour of RJD

Politics is all about possibilities and conveniences. This became apparent during the by-election to Rupauli assembly seat in the state. Independent MP from Purnea Rajesh Ranjan alias Pappu Yadav, who was pitted against RJD's Bima Bharti in the recently held Lok Sabha election, campaigned in favour of RJD candidate in the by-election. Yadav, who had contested Lok Sabha poll as rebel of Congress, said that he would favour the candidate who is with the grand old party. Congress is an ally of RJD, a part of opposition 'INDIA' bloc. Earlier, Congress had warned of disciplinary action against Yadav for his anti-party activities.

Ex-IAS officer Nitish's potential successor?

The name of Manish Kumar Verma, a former IAS officer, is doing the rounds as one of the political successors of Bihar chief minister and Janata Dal (United) national president Nitish Kumar. Verma formally joined JD(U) recently and is likely to be appointed as the party's general secretary (organisation). His political ambitions were clear ever since he opted VRS in 2021. A native of Nalanda district, Verma also comes from Kurmi, the caste Nitish Kumar belongs to. He is also seen as a replacement of former bureaucrat-turned politician RCP Singh, once a close aide of Nitish.

RJD leader claims PK's party BJP funded

An alleged letter from Bihar RJD president Jagadanand Singh has sparked a political storm in the state where he claims that poll-strategist Prashant Kishor's Jan Suraaj party is a 'B Team' of BJP. The purported letter, however, expressed concern over some RJD members deserting the party and joining BJP. The RJD leader also described 'Jan Suraaj' as a BJP funded organisation. The letter, purportedly bearing the signature of state party chief, was created to bolster BJP's political strength. 'Jan Suraaj' responded quickly on social media, assailing RJD for its political concerns despite being the state's single largest party in the legislative assembly.

IAS officer lands in Maha soup over fake OBC, disability certs

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AN IAS officer in Maharashtra, who came under spotlight for using a red-blue beacon light and a VIP number plate on her private Audi vehicle, was found to have submitted fake disability and Other Backward Class (OBC) certificates to get into the administrative service.

Dr Pooja Khedkar, an officer from the 2023-batch, secured rank 821 (PWD-5) in the UPSC exams. After joining as an officer, she stirred a controversy when she demanded privileges not accorded to the new joinees.

As per the probe report, she installed a 'Maharashtra government' board on her car. She also instructed the revenue assistant to provide a letterhead, visiting card, paperweight, nameplate, royal seal and intercom in her name. She also demanded a separate office chamber and a dedicated staff for her.

Her father Dilip Khedkar also threatened the local revenue department staff in Pune collectorate to fulfill his daughter's demands or face dire consequences.

She was also alleged occupying the ante-chamber of Additional District Collector Ajay More without his knowledge, and all these complaints resulted in her transfer from Pune to Washim.

After Khedkar's appointment was initially denied on February 2, 2022, she filed an affidavit in the Central Government Tribunal (CAT) asserting that she was visually impaired and mentally ill. The court scheduled her medical test five times between July and September 2022.

However, she failed to appear for all four examinations at AIIMS in Delhi citing some or other reasons. She later submitted a local hospital verifications certificate and mysteriously joined civil service. Meanwhile, Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration (IBSNAA) has sought a detailed report from the Maharashtra govt regarding the fake disability certificate.

Rajkot fire victims' kin threaten march if no justice in 6 months

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

AFTER meeting with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, the families of the victims of the Rajkot TRP game zone fire met Gujarat Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel on Wednesday.

After the meeting, the families declared that "if we do not get justice within six months, we will organise a foot march across Gujarat." Gandhi visited the families on Saturday, pledging to voice their concerns in Parliament.

During their meeting with the CM, the victims' families made several demands including a probe monitored by a committee of retired judges, speedy trial and a compensation of ₹50 lakh per family. As many as 27 people, including four children, were killed in the massive fire that swept through TRP Game Zone, a recreation facility, in Rajkot city on May 25. It was allegedly being run by a private firm without the mandatory no objection certificate of the fire department.

Gujarat government spokesperson and minister Rishikesh Patel told the media, "The Chief Minister and Home Minister have met the families of the Rajkot TRP Game Zone fire victims and assured them that no party responsible will be spared." A family member of a fire victim said that while the CM and Home Minister claimed to stand by them, the government refused to provide a written guarantee when requested.

"After a month and a half of this tragedy, we were called in to be told they are with us. We feel this is just a reassurance tactic. We have informed the government that we will wait six months for justice. If they fail, we will stage a foot march from Rajkot to CM House in Gandhinagar," the victim's family member said in a media interview.

"The government says they have suspended the officials responsible for the incident, but they should be dismissed. We have submitted demand to the government," he said.

Demands of compensation

During their meeting with the CM, the victims' families made several demands including a probe monitored by a committee of retired judges, speedy trial and a compensation of ₹50 lakh per family. 27 people, including four children, were killed in a massive fire on May 25.

IN the Vindhya region's Satna district, a horrifying discovery was made as a labourer couple and their two young sons were found murdered at two separate locations. The incident unfolded in the Nazirabad area of Satna city.

Sangita Chowdhary, 28, and her two sons, Nikhil, 8, and Hritik, 6, were found dead inside the house where they had been staying for just a day. Hours later, the body of Rakesh Chowdhary, 30, Sangita's husband, was discovered near the railway tracks in the same city.

The couple, who earned their livelihood as daily wage labourers, had been forced to leave their rented accommodation on Monday. Seeking temporary shelter, they approached another labourer, Chanda, for a place to stay while they searched for a new home.

On Wednesday morning, Chanda noticed no movement from the room where the family was staying. Peering inside, she was horrified to find Sangita and her sons dead. Later that day, Rakesh's body was found near the railway tracks.

Satna police officials have stated that the deaths appear to be murders, but further investigation is needed to uncover the full story.

In another horrifying incident, a woman named Chhaya was allegedly beheaded by her husband Anand in their home in the Ambah area of Morena district, part of the Gwalior-Chambal region.

The gruesome act occurred while Chhaya's brother, Bhanu, was also in the house. Anand, who often fought with Chhaya over his drinking habits and had been allegedly torturing her for dowry since their marriage in 2022, locked Bhanu in a room before attacking Chhaya with a sharp-edged weapon.

Anand, who earned a living by driving an e-rickshaw, brutally beheaded his wife in a fit of rage. Another sad tragedy unfolded when a female official of the state public relations department, Pooja Thapak, died by suicide in her Bhopal home on the intervening night of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pooja, 30, an assistant director at the state public relations department and currently serving as the public relations officer for the state's panchayat and rural development minister Prahlad Singh Patel, was found hanged in her home. Preliminary investigations suggest that Pooja had been experiencing marital issues with her husband, Nikhil. However, the exact reason behind her extreme step remains under investigation by the police.

Woman beheaded

In another horrifying incident, a woman named Chhaya was allegedly beheaded by her husband Anand in their home in the Ambah area of Morena district, part of the Gwalior-Chambal region.

Diya tables Budget: Focus on women, Hindutva

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

WITH Finance Minister Diya Kumari making several major announcements, the Bhajan Lal government of Rajasthan presented its first full budget on Wednesday. The budget particularly focuses on women, youth, and farmers, and includes a special effort to bolster BJP's Hindutva outreach.

One of the most notable initiatives for women is the "Lakhpati Didi Yojana," designed to financially empower women across the state. The finance minister announced that 15 lakh women in Rajasthan will become "Lakhpati Didi" under this scheme which will provide eligible women with interest-free loans up to ₹5 lakh to start their own businesses and improve their economic condition.

The budget also addresses the concerns of Rajasthan youth with some significant initiatives. A commitment was made to create 4 lakh new jobs over the next five years as part of a broader strategy to combat unemployment and provide more opportunities for young people. Additionally, a new youth policy will be introduced, including programs for new internship opportunities and skill development training for over 1.5 lakh youth, aiming to equip them with the necessary skills and experience for the job market.

In a nod to cultural heritage and Hindutva, the budget allocates large funds for the development of religious sites. Kumari announced that ₹100 crore will be dedicated to the development of Khatu Shyam Ji, one of the most popular Krishna temples in the state. Plans are also in place to construct the Khatushyam Corridor, modeled after the Kashi Vishwanath Corridor, to enhance the infrastructure and facilities around this important pilgrimage site. Development work costing crores will also be carried out at Jeenmata and Shakambari temples in Sikar, with 600 other temples being renovated for festivals. A total of ₹ 13 crore will be spent on these renovations.

For farmers, Diya Kumari stated that a Detailed Project Report (DPR) will be prepared at a cost of ₹60 crore to bring Yamuna water from Haryana to Rajasthan through an underground pipeline, ensuring year-round water availability in Sikar, Churu, and Jhunjhunu districts.

INITIATIVE FOR WOMEN
- "Lakhpati Didi Yojana": Aimed at financially empowering women.
- Target: 15 lakh women to become "Lakhpati Didi."
- Support: Interest-free loans of ₹1 to 5 lakh for eligible women to start businesses.

YOUTH INITIATIVES

- Youth Policy: Introduction of new programs for internships and skill development training for over 1.5 lakh youth.

CULTURAL HERITAGE AND HINDUTVA
- Funds Allocation: ₹100 crore for the development of Khatu Shyam Ji.
- Khatushyam Corridor: Modeled after the Kashi Vishwanath Corridor to enhance pilgrimage site infrastructure.
- Temple Development: Renovations for Jeenmata and Shakambhari temples, and 600 other temples, with ₹13 crore allocated for festivals.

SUPPORT FOR FARMERS
- Water Project: ₹60 crore for a Detailed Project Report (DPR) to bring Yamuna water to Rajasthan via an underground pipeline.
- Sprinkler Irrigation: Less than ₹200 crore for facilities in 33,000 hectares of the Chaudhary Kumbharam Arya Lift Canal area.
- Market Expansion: Rasidpura Mandi in Sikar to be expanded.

Israel wants Gaza City evacuated amid heaviest combat since Oct 7

UN office used by Hamas attacked; 60% of militants eliminated

GAZA/JERUSALEM

ISRAEL's army dropped thousands of leaflets over war-torn Gaza City on Wednesday urging all residents to flee a heavy offensive through the main city of the besieged Palestinian territory.

The leaflets, addressed to "everyone in Gaza City", set out designated escape routes and warned that the urban area, which had a pre-war population of over half a million, would "remain a dangerous combat zone".

The warning came as Israeli troops, backed by tanks and aircraft, have fought Hamas and Islamic Jihad militants in the heaviest combat the city has seen in months in the war raging since October 7.

In one operation, the army said it had killed militants and found weapons inside the long-vacated Gaza City headquarters of the UN agency for Palestinian refugees, UNRWA.

The Israeli military said that one overnight attack in Gaza City targeted Hamas and Islamic Jihad targets operating from inside the headquarters of the UN agency for Palestinians UNRWA. The UN agency has not had control of the building since October. Israeli forces said in February they had found a Hamas tunnel underneath the headquarters. The military said the militants were "operating inside UNRWA's headquarters in the area and using it as a base to conduct attacks on IDF (Israeli Defense Forces) troops in the central Gaza Strip". It said that militants had been "eliminated" and "large amounts of weapons" found.

Elsewhere across Gaza, deadly strikes have hit four schools used as shelters in four days, sparking rebukes from France and Germany which both labelled the attacks "unacceptable".

Heavy fighting also raged in Gaza's far-southern Rafah, where Israeli tanks had rumbled into the city centre and unleashed intense fire on buildings.

The latest fighting in Gaza has newly displaced 350,000 civilians, said UNRWA chief Philippe Lazzarini, who spoke before the leaflet drop and said "there is absolutely no safe space in Gaza".

One woman carrying her scant belongings through the ruins, Nimr al-Jamal, said on Tuesday that "this is the 12th time" her family has had to flee. "How many times can we endure this? A thousand times? Where will we end up?"

The upsurge in fighting, bombardment and displacement came as talks were to resume in Qatar towards a truce and hostage release deal to end the war now grinding on into its 10th month.

An Israeli delegation led by Mossad chief David Barnea arrived in Doha. CIA director William Burns was also expected in the Qatari capital.

Israel's Defence Minister Yoav Gallant said Wednesday that 60% of Hamas fighters had been "eliminated or wounded" in the war. In a statement to parliament on the first nine months of the conflict, Gallant said that the military was "determined" to meet its goals of eradicating Hamas and bringing all hostages back from Gaza. The minister praised Israeli soldiers for "performing their work with dedication, sacrifice and success" and said "the achievements are many".

"In the end, we go on missions to destroy as much infrastructure as possible, to eliminate as many Hamas operatives as possible, to eliminate as many commanders as possible," Halevi said.

The minister did not give figures for the casualties and the Israeli military said it did not immediately have statistics.

Israel's army chief, Lieutenant General Herzi Halevi, told soldiers in central Gaza that Israeli strategy was to "apply military pressure in various ways". The Israeli prime minister's office said Wednesday that "14,000 terrorists have been eliminated". AFP

Starmer says Kyiv can fire UK missiles on Russia

LONDON

BRITAIN's Prime Minister Keir Starmer indicated on Wednesday that Ukraine can use long-range missiles supplied by the UK to strike military targets in Russia during their war.

Starmer told reporters on his flight to Washington for NATO's 75th anniversary summit that decisions on the use of British-supplied Storm Shadow missiles were for the Ukrainian armed forces.

UK military aid is "for defensive purposes but it is for Ukraine to decide how to deploy it for those defensive purposes", said Starmer, who became UK leader last Friday following a landslide election win for his Labour party.

The comments confirm that Labour is pursuing the same stance on the air-launched missiles as the previous Conservative governments led by Rishi Sunak, Liz Truss and earlier Boris Johnson.

Britain has been one of Kyiv's staunchest allies since Russian President Vladimir Putin launched a full-scale invasion of neighbouring Ukraine in February 2022.

The UK has provided money, weapons and troop training to Ukraine's fight.

Britain was the first country to provide longer-range weapons to the Ukrainian military, announcing last May that it would send Storm Shadow missiles. Starmer was due to reaffirm Britain's support for Ukraine and its "unshakeable commitment" to the western military alliance NATO during the summit, where he is due to meet Ukrainian President.

Myanmar armed ethnic group takes over control of town en route to China

YANGON

MYANMAR ethnic minority fighters said on Wednesday they had seized a town along a key trade highway to China following days of clashes, in another blow to the military.

Northern Shan state has been rocked by fighting since late last month, when an alliance of ethnic armed groups renewed an offensive against the military along the highway to China's Yunnan province.

The clashes have shredded a Beijing-brokered truce that in January halted an offensive by the alliance of the Arakan Army (AA), the Myanmar National Democratic Alliance Army (MNDAA) and the Ta'ang National Liberation Army (TNLA). The town of Naungcho "is totally ours", General Tar Bhone Kyaw of the TNLA said. Earlier Wednesday, a military source said that ethnic minority fighters were in control of "most" of the town.

Naungcho is around 50 kms down the highway from the former British hill station of Pyin Oo Lwin, home to the military's elite officer training academy. Another road from the town leads to Taunggyi, the capital of Shan state.

TNLA fighters were also inside the town of Lashio, home to the junta's northeastern command, the TNLA said.

Its forces had briefly captured a battallion command near the city but had been forced to retreat when the military launched air strikes, said Tar Bhone Kyaw.

On Tuesday the junta said 18 civilians in Lashio had been killed and 24 wounded in shelling, rocket and drone attacks by the alliance.

The military has carried out several air strikes around the town of about 150,000 people, according to residents.

On Tuesday Lashio residents piled into cars weighed down with belongings and navigated potholed and monsoon-soaked dirt roads in a bid to flee the fighting. AFP

Strategic cooperative ties between China, Bangladesh

BEIJING

CHINA and Bangladesh are reaffirming their ties during a visit by Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina to Beijing on Wednesday as tensions rise in the region over territorial disputes and resources.

China's official Xinhua News Agency quoted Wang Huning, a member of China's Politburo Standing Committee who met with Hasina, as saying that "China and Bangladesh have respected and treated each other with equality, setting a good example of friendly coexistence and mutually beneficial cooperation between countries." Xinhua reported Hasina later met with Chinese President Xi Jinping and "elevated their relations to a comprehensive strategic cooperative partnership." No details were given, but the designation of relations generally entails closer economic relations, largely funded by Chinese policy banks.

Bangladesh occupies a strategic position between Myanmar, a longtime Chinese ally now wracked by internal conflict, and India, the rising Asian giant with which China has a longstanding border conflict. Hasina met with her Chinese counterpart, Li Qiang, on Wednesday and oversaw the signing of 28 bilateral agreements covering mostly trade and investment.

While Bangladesh maintains development partnerships with the United States and India, it is also drawing closer to China, which is heavily engaged in the country's major infrastructure projects. Hasina is eager to strengthen relations to encourage Chinese investment in her country's economy, which faces challenges over a heavy debt burden. China also provides Bangladesh with tanks, missile launchers and other weapons and is building seaports, railway tracks, power plants and bridges. The US remains Bangladesh's largest source of foreign direct investment.

Media reports in Bangladesh say it will seek $20 billion in new loans from China during Hasina's visit.Hasina's visit to China is taking place a few weeks after she visited India.

Trump wants second debate, golf match; no, says Biden campaign

WASHINGTON

DONALD Trump, the Republican presumptive presidential nominee, has offered his rival and incumbent President Joe Biden the opportunity to "redeem himself in front of the entire world" via a debate this week while also challenging him to a round of golf.

Trump's challenges to Biden came as he was feeling quite confident after his maiden debate performance against the president late last month.

"I'm officially offering Joe the chance to redeem himself in front of the entire world," Trump, 78, said at a campaign rally in Florida.

"Let's do another debate this week so that sleepy Joe Biden can prove to everyone all over the world that he has what it takes to be president," he said.

"But this time it will be man-to-man, no moderators, no holds barred. Just name the place, anytime, anywhere," Trump added.

Biden, the Democratic nominee, performed poorly at the June 27 presidential debate in Atlanta, after which even his own party colleagues are asking him to drop from the race. Biden has rejected such calls.

At the same rally, Trump then challenged Biden to an 18-hole golf match.

"I'm also officially challenging Joe to an 18-hole golf match right here," he said.

"If he wins, I will give the charity of his choice, any charity that he wants, $1 million. And I'll bet you he doesn't take the offer. What that match will do is prove that Joe is, in fact, all talk and no action," Trump said.

The Biden campaign has rejected both the challenges.

"Joe Biden doesn't have time for Donald Trump's weird antics he's busy leading America and defending the free world. Donald Trump is a liar, a convict, and a fraud only out for himself par for the course," Biden-Harris 2024 Spokesperson James Singer said.

"Donald Trump hasn't been seen in public for 12 days; now he's inviting fictional serial killers to dinner, teasing lil' Marco Rubio, praising Project 2025 architect Tom Homan, and challenging the President of the United States to golf. We'd challenge Donald Trump to create jobs, but he lost 3 million," he said.

Meanwhile, Nikki Haley released several of her delegates to support Trump. PTI

Syria national airline resumes Saudi flights after 12 years

RIYADH

SYRIA's national airline resumed regular services to Saudi Arabia after a 12-year suspension on Wednesday as the first flight arrived in Riyadh.

The move, announced by Syrian Airlines continues a slow rapprochement between the two governments who restored diplomatic relations last year.

Syrian Ambassador to Saudi Ayman Soussan said a Syrian Airlines plane carrying 170 passengers touched down in the Saudi capital, marking the resumption of a regular route.

He said the two countries have agreed to "operate one round-trip flight per week between Riyadh and Damascus" after the long pause prompted by Syria's civil war.

Syrian transport ministry official Suleiman Khalil said the direct route could be expanded to cover airports in the Saudi cities of Jeddah and Dammam, depending on demand.

Passenger flights between the two countries were halted in 2012 when Riyadh severed ties with Damascus over President Bashar Assad's brutal crackdown on anti-government protesters at the start of the country's civil war.

Services between Syria and Saudi resumed in May on a temporary basis for pilgrims taking part in the hajj pilgrimage. The rapprochement between the countries have been sluggish. AFP

Iraq court gives death to slain Daesh chief widow for Yazidi women slavery

BAGHDAD

AN Iraqi court has sentenced to death a wife of slain Islamic State group leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi on charges of detaining Yazidi women, the judiciary said on Wednesday.

The wife of the polygamous Baghdadi was brought back to Iraq after being detained in Turkey, judicial sources said under cover of anonymity because they were not authorised to speak to the press.

"The Karkh (west Baghdad) criminal court sentenced to death the wife of the terrorist Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi for the crime of working with the Daesh terrorist group and detaining Yazidi women in her house," the Supreme Judicial Council said on its website, using an Arabic acronym for IS.

The slain leader's wife detained the Yazidis who "were later kidnapped" by IS fighters in the Sinjar district of northern Iraq, it added.

A judicial source identified her as Asma Mohammed.

Washington announced in October 2019 that US troops had killed Baghdadi in an operation in northwestern Syria, five years after he proclaimed a "caliphate" across swathes of Syria and neighbouring Iraq.

During their lightning advance through northern Iraq in 2014, the Islamist extremists of IS singled out the non-Muslim Yazidis, systematically killing thousands of men and forcing women into sexual slavery.

Over several years, Iraqi courts have handed down hundreds of death sentences as well as life prison terms under the penal code for membership in "a terrorist group".

Among those convicted in Iraq were more than 500 foreign men and women found guilty of joining IS.

Iraq announced in February it had secured "the repatriation of the family" of Baghdadi, and his wife, "detained in Turkey", had been returned along with her children. AFP

Vedanta demerger will unlock value, says Agarwal

Each demerged entity will chart their own course, which will give the investors more choices in Vedanta assets, the co's chairman says

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @Mumbai

VEDANTA group chairman Anil Agarwal on Wednesday reiterated the plan to go ahead with the demerger of its businesses that will create six Vedantas on their own right, and the process will see a Vedanta shareholder getting one new share in each of the new five companies for each of her equity now.

Addressing the shareholders at the annual general meeting here on Wednesday, he said as of June 2024, the total shareholder return over the past five years is 276% with an average accumulated dividend yield is 65% in the same period, putting Vedanta in the top bracket of dividend payers.

The company has so far invested over $35 billion in the country and contributes around 1.4% of the national GDP, he said, adding Vedanta is the largest private sector producer of oil, the largest producer of aluminum in the country and the sole producer of zinc and silver. Vedanta is also one of the largest generators of power and purchasers of renewable energy in the country now. The group has over the past nine years has contributed $53 billion to the national exchequer, he added.

"For every one share of Vedanta that a shareholder currently owns, she will additionally receive one share in each of the five-newly listed companies," he told the shareholders.

"The demerger will unlock massive value. Each demerged entity will chart its own course and will lend speed to our journey. Each entity will have more independence in regard to capital allocation and their growth strategies while investors will have the freedom to invest in the industries of their choice, broadening the overall investor base for Vedanta assets," he said.

Noting that the natural resources industry has provided the very foundation for the growth and development of several developed global economies, he said with the right policy tweak especially on the supply side, India can clearly shine and maximize its potential in this area.

Vedanta is appropriately positioned in the global context too and the company will be netting as much as 70% of its topline from critical minerals in the future.

Reiterating his commitment to invest more in the country Agarwal said "our investment in growth projects is substantial at $8 billion. These include our aluminum smelter, our alumina refinery, a copper smelter in Saudi Arabia, investment in new oil and gas blocks, and expansion of our steel and iron ore businesses."

"As of now, 50 projects under execution with high potential for increasing volume, business integration, and enhancing the range of value-added products across businesses," he said.

'India should tap potential in natural resources industry'

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

VEDANTA Chairman Anil Agarwal urged India to tap its vast potential in natural resources, as the natural resources industry fueled growth in many developed economies.

While addressing shareholders during the 59th Annual General Meeting, Agarwal highlighted that India has explored only 30% of its geological potential so far. He noted that currently, 50% of India's imports, worth more than $350 billion, consist of minerals and metals, including oil and gas. This figure is expected to double or triple as the economy grows at a rapid pace, presenting a $1 trillion opportunity in this sector.

"The natural resources industry has provided the very foundation for the growth and development of several developed global economies – the United States, Australia, Middle East, Canada, and Europe. It is now clearly India's time to shine and maximize its potential in this area," said Agarwal. He also pointed out that while public discourse often focuses on lithium, cobalt, and nickel, resources such as copper, aluminium, zinc, and silver are equally fundamental to the sunrise sectors of the new economy, and India has abundant reserves of these materials. Agarwal noted that India is the fastest-growing economy in the world, with double-digit growth in demand for various products.

Deal Street in H1 closes 4.4% more transactions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

IN spite of over 18% fall in volume, deal street saw transactions worth $37.3 billion being closed in the first six months of the year, logging in a growth of 4.4% year-on-year.

Overall M&As during the first half of 2024 inched up by 4.4% in value to $37.3 billion over the same period last year despite the number of announced deals falling by 18.4% in the same period, according to the data compiled by LSEG Deals Intelligence, which is an London Stock Exchange group venture as was previously known as Refintiv.

According to the agency, the volume fall was primarily due to a 19% dip in mid-market deals, or transactions valued up to $500 million and where most of the volume takes place outside of the mega-deal category. Unlike the previous year, the first half saw at least six deals above $1 billion including the $3.1 billion merger between Walt Disney and Reliance Industries' media assets, as well as the $3-billion merger between Data Infrastructure Trust and ATC India (the Indus Tower deal). Deals in the technology, media & entertainment, and telecom sector more than doubled to $14 billion.

Equity capital markets hit record levels during the first half, raising $29.5 billion in proceeds, which was more than double the amount raised in the comparative period of 2023 when it was $12 billion. The activity was led by follow-on offerings which grew 156% YoY by proceeds and 56% in terms of issues. This was driven by a record number of block trades raising $16.4 billion, which was up 117% over the same period last year. IPOs raised $4.4 billion, up 98% YoY and number of IPOs grew 71% YoY.

This had investment bankers earning $530 million in fees during first half, down 11% as against last year. Of this, equity underwriting fees were $243.8 million, up 127% from a year ago.

Reserve Bank further liberalises remittances under LRS through IFSCs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank has further liberalised remittances under the LRS (liberalised remittance scheme) via the International Financial Services Centres (IFSCs) by allowing remittances for availing of financial services or financial products as well as all current or capital account transactions, in any other foreign jurisdiction (other than IFSCs) through an FCA held in IFSCs.

The extant LRS through the IFSCs allows only remittances under making investments in IFSCs in securities except those issued by resident entities/companies and for payment of education fees to foreign universities or foreign institutions in IFSCs for pursuing courses mentioned in the gazette notification.

However, the central bank said the revised norms will still be subject to the International Financial Services Centres Authority Act, 2019 within IFSCs.

"On a review, it has been decided that authorised persons may facilitate remittances for all permissible purposes under LRS to IFSCs for availing of financial services or financial products as per the IFSCs Authority Act, 2019 within IFSCs; and also for all current or capital account transactions, in any other foreign jurisdiction (other than IFSCs) through an FCA held in IFSCs," RBI said.

For these purposes, resident individuals can open foreign currency accounts in IFSCs, it added. Tapan Ray, MD and Group CEO, GIFT City, said, "We at GIFT IFSC welcome the Reserve Bank of India's recent circular expanding the scope of the Liberalised Remittance Scheme (LRS). This decisive move aligns GIFT IFSC with other global financial centers, allowing resident investors to leverage our platform for a wider range of overseas investments and expenditures."

"By clarifying the use of LRS for investments and enabling transactions like insurance and education loan payments in foreign currency, the RBI has significantly enhanced the attractiveness and utility of GIFT IFSC. We thank the RBI for this progressive step, which will bolster GIFT IFSC's role as a leading international financial services hub."

Noteban, GST, Covid erase ₹11.5 lakh cr

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @Mumbai

THE cumulative impact of the GST roll-out, note-ban along with the pandemic on informal sector has been 4.3% of FY23 GDP or about ₹11.5 trillion, shows an analysis.

As per India Ratings, the unorganised sector was severely impacted by demonetisation, GST and the covid pandemic as the number of such units shut down between 2015-16 and 2022-23 are estimated at 6.3 million, leading to ₹11.5 trillion economic and about 16 million informal sector job losses.

The size of informal sector was ₹15.4 trillion in FY23, growing at an annual rate of 4.3% between FY16 and FY23. This contrasts sharply with the annual growth of 12.9% they recorded between FY11 and FY16. Had they not been hit, their size would have been ₹26.9 trillion in FY23. This translates into a cumulative economic loss to the tune of ₹11.5 trillion or 4.3% of FY23 GDP.

While the disastrous demonetisation was announced in November 2016, the lop-sided uniform indirect tax that GST was supposed to be was from July 2o17 and the pandemic wreaked havoc from April 2022 through October 2021.

But this period coincided with the rise in formalisation of the economy, which has resulted in robust tax collections, says Sunil Kumar Sinha, the principal economist at the agency.

The agency has analysed the trends of the share of the unorganised sector in the overall economy and also the long-term trends in real gross value added of these units, sectoral composition of jobs and enterprises, and the estimate the economic and operational loss to the sector because of these shocks to arrive at these numbers.

The unorganised sector contributes over 44% to the GVA and employs nearly 75% of the work force employed in non-agricultural enterprises as of PLFS 2022-23. About 90% of the agriculture sector workforce comes under the ambit of the informal sector. A glance at the latest National Sample Survey data on the informal enterprises suggests their real GVA in FY23 stood at about ₹9.51 trillion.

"Though real GVA grew 6.9% YoY in FY23, it was still 1.6% lower than the levels attained in FY16. A long-term view at their real GVA gives a better picture of the deleterious impact of the shocks on the sector."

Padukone is set to travel to Paris as badminton mentor

Legendary Prakash Padukone is set to travel as a mentor along with the 15-member Indian badminton squad for the Paris Olympics, beginning on July 26. Padukone, the first Indian to win the All England Championship, was retired in 1991 even as badminton was introduced in the Olympics at the 1992 Barcelona Games.

Yamal, 16, shoots for stars with goal for ages

Spark is back in Spain as they storm past France to 2024 Euros final

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

WHEN it was put to Didier Deschamps that watching the French team may be a bit boring, the coach had come up with a combative suggestion. "If you are bored, please change channels," he had said. "I don't have a problem." For people who went against the advice of the French coach on Tuesday night, they will have gone to sleep with one of the images of the European Championships. Lamine Yamal, who will continue to tick the box named 'minor' in every form for the next year, produced a goal worthy of winning any football match. In the process, Spain progressed to the final, 2-1 winners over Deschamps' 'sufferball'.

If France made their bed with 'sufferball', Spain have added a few grams of magic, lots of pace and given the keys to the future. Here's an example which best illustrates the diverging paths of both teams. While France didn't give a single minute to Warren Zaire Emery, an 18-year-old touted to be the future of French football, Spain made the likes of Yamal and Nico Williams, 21, crucial components of their puzzle.

There is no point in identifying players for the future and preserving them in some liquid if they are good enough to be the present. In Yamal, Spain saw their present. And he delivered with a goal for the ages.

After 20 minutes, France were coasting in the way that only they can. Having scored an early goal — their first from open play in this Euro — they already had designs on a 1-0 win.

And, to be fair, Spain weren't going anywhere, their midfielders were being shackled and the pace shown by the wingers in some of the earlier games was conspicuous by its absence.

Step forward, Yamal. After picking up the ball just inside the right half space from the better part of 30 yards out, he danced one way and another while keeping every available option in play. Alvaro Morata, for instance, had peeled off towards the right-hand side. On the left, Nico Williams was free. He had both those passes on. But with a number of French players not covering the angle for a shot, Yamal stepped inside before letting fly a curling, dipping effort which hit the inside off the post before nestling in the back of the net. This is what football, or any sport, should be about.

Freedom. Joy. Ability to express yourself freely without the fear of failure. Players doing something so ludicrous it helps you forget the real world for a few minutes.

In over 90 years of World Cup and the Euros, nobody this young had scored. The previous youngest to score? Pele. Yup, that Pele when he dazzled the world in 1958. He turned out to be pretty decent.

During the course of the last month in Germany, he had to clear his exams at school. Some of his teammates – one of them, Jesus Navas, at 39, is older than his father -- have ribbed him about his age. But do not let that deceive his innate natural ability with a ball at his feat. Coming into the event, in 38 La Liga appearances for Barcelona, he had five goals and eight assists in over 2200 minutes. Even in the cutthroat world of modern football, here was a player Barcelona was willing to invest in. You can see why.

When Yamal's ability was broadcast to the wider world after his dazzling displays in a few of the group stage games, one of those aggregator-type handles on X suggested that the Spaniard, a child born to two people from Equatorial Guinea and Morocco, was breaking a vague German law which held that minors wouldn't be permitted to work post 8.00 PM. A clause in the law allows sportspersons to function till 11.00 PM.

At 8.45 PM local time, Yamal changed the trajectory of the match. Around 10.45 PM local time, Yamal was substituted. In the intervening two hours, a legend was born. "We have seen a genius, the product of a genius," De la Fuente told reporters after the match. "He's a player we have to take care of. I have to give him the advice to keep working with the same humility and keep his feet on the floor. He would keep growing but this maturity and attitude at such a young age is like that of a more experienced player."

At 8.45 PM on Sunday, Yamal & 10 other Spaniards will take to the field again. It won't be boring. Result: Spain 2-1 France

What lies ahead for coach Gambhir...

GOMESH S @Chennai

SO, its official now, well it has been for the past 36 hours. Gautam Gambhir is the coach to take Indian team and cricket forward over the next three and a half years. While Gambhir and former India cricketer and women's team coach WV Raman were the two prominent candidates to have given interviews, the former's road ahead with the Men in Blue comes with its own challenges.

For starters, Gambhir is taking up the role at a high point — read T20 World Cup win — Indian cricket hasn't experienced in a decade. And, there are two more ICC trophies to be won in the next 12 months — Champions Trophy and World Test Championship. That said, Gambhir, too, is coming on the back of a big win. Having mentored Lucknow Super Giants for two years, he moved to Kolkata Knight Riders — the team he had captained to multiple IPL titles — and immediately showed results with a trophy in May. In the past three years, he has worked with multiple international stars as mentor and has been able to run the show with a hands-on approach. In the Indian dressing room, however, it could be one of the challenges. He will be coaching the players he shared dressing room with as a team member (both international and domestic), players whose stardom and stature has grown multifolds in the past decade. From Virat Kohli to Rohit Sharma to Rishabh Pant to Hardik Pandya to Jasprit Bumrah, the big names make at least half the side. This is where Sanjay Bharadwaj, Gambhir's childhood coach, believes his quest for taking up new challenges and experience of backing players will be helpful. "The first role of a coach is to show belief and confidence in the players," says Bharadwaj. "'You give your best and I am with you. Try your best and even if you cannot execute, I will still be with you'. When a coach tells you that, as a player, you will not be afraid. The insecurity will be gone. You have to give confidence and I feel Gautam has got that. He knows what kind of pressure he had as a player and what he did to not be afraid and he will ensure the same," he adds.

Now, Gambhir, the youngest Indian to become the head coach of the men's team, is very different from his predecessor Rahul Dravid as an individual. At the same time, he has shown enough signs in the past to establish he knows when to take a back seat. In 2018, Gambhir left KKR to come back and lead Delhi Capitals but midway through the season he resigned from captaincy and let Shreyas Iyer take the team forward. As India's coach, he might not be the one taking on-field decisions, but he would be aware enough to let the players do their thing while contributing off the field. And he will not be doing it alone. The names of Abhishek Nayar (assistant coach), Vinay Kumar and L Balaji (bowling coach) are doing rounds to join as support staff, and Gambhir has worked with them might come in handy. The other key aspect of his tenure will be handling the transition in 50-over and T20I format (Test team is already in transition). Bharadwaj feels that Gambhir's ability to observe and make the most of a player's ability will come in handy. "The kind of player he was, he was really good at observing a player's ability whether it was Umesh Yadav, Kuldeep Yadav, Navdeep Saini or Yusuf Pathan, I might forget a few. He has the thing of making most of a player's ability whether it is as captain or mentor," he says.

Only time will tell whether Gambhir lives up to the expectations and fulfil the objectives he has set out to achieve. The first thing, however, would be to see how the coach settles into his role and handles the dressing room.

Messi, Argentina in another final

AGENCIES @East Rutherford

LIONEL Messi and Argentina moved within one win of joining Spain as the only nations to win three straight major titles. "It's insane what this team has done, what the Argentina national team is doing," Messi said Tuesday night after his 109th international goal sealed a 2-0 victory over Canada that earned a berth in this weekend's Copa America final. "For those who remain from the old guard, it's beyond impressive that the national team is in another final."

Julián Álvarez put the Albiceleste ahead in the 22nd minute, controlling a long pass from Rodrigo De Paul, taking two touches to get away from Moïse Bombito and slipping the ball through the legs of goalkeeper Maxime Crépeau for his ninth international goal. Messi redirected Enzo Fernández's shot following a poor Ismaël Koné clearance in off the face of Crépeau from 4 yards in the 51st for his first goal of the tournament. Messi has 28 goals in his last 25 matches for Argentina and 14 in Copa America play, three shy of the record. He has scored against 38 different nations. "I wasn't sure if Enzo's ball was going to get in," Messi said. "It was a reflex."

Only Portugal's Cristiano Ronaldo with 130 has more international goals than Messi, who turned 37 on June 24. Iran's Ali Daei had 108 or 109 from 1993 to 2006, with a lingering dispute over whether a goal against Ecuador in 2000 occurred in a full international match.

With a victory on its independence day, Argentina extended its unbeaten streak to 10 games. The Albiceleste seek a record 16th Copa title when they play Uruguay or Colombia on Sunday at Miami Gardens, Florida. "We have to enjoy every moment of what we're are living," Messi said. "I'm conscious that these are the last battles."

Trying to string together Copa America titles around the 2022 World Cup championship, Argentina hopes to match Spain's feat of winning the 2008 and 2012 European Championships along with the 2010 World Cup. "These are statistics. I'm not really interested about it," Argentina coach Lionel Scaloni said through a translator. "The most important thing is to win."

Making his 38th Copa America appearance, Messi had missed Argentina's group stage finale with a leg injury and was subdued while playing 90 minutes in the quarterfinal win over Ecuador. He was much more agile and shot just wide in the 12th and 44th minutes. Messi had 45 touches and a 79 % pass success rate. "They make us pay on small details," Crépeau said.

Test wrestlers' fitness before Oly: WFI to SAI

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

WITH no preparatory camp ahead of the Olympics under its wings and an apparent lack of knowledge about athletes' whereabouts, the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) wrote to the TOPS division of SAI requesting it to make sure Paris-bound wrestlers undergo medical tests before departing for the sporting extravaganza.

As many as six Indian wrestlers including five women qualified for the Olympics. Two of them, Vinesh Phogat (50kg) and Aman Sehrawat (57kg), are training in Spain and Russia respectively at the moment while Anshu Malik (57kg) is scheduled to leave for Japan. Aman is expected to return to the country ahead of the Games but Vinesh and Anshu are scheduled to join the Indian contingent directly in Paris. Other qualified wrestlers are Antim Phogat (53kg), Nisha Dahiya (68kg) and Reetika Hooda (76kg). The trio is training in the country at their respective centres and will leave for Paris with the Indian contingent.

"I am writing to inform you that there will be no camp for wrestlers for Olympic preparation this year. Instead, I would like to bring to your attention that some wrestlers participating in the Olympic Games are training in India at their respective training centres, while others are training abroad under the TOPS Scheme. In light of the upcoming 2024 Paris Olympics Games, it is crucial that all participating wrestlers undergo thorough medical testing before departing for the Games. This precaution is necessary to ensure that each athlete is in optimal health and fitness to compete at their best," read the letter written by the WFI's president Sanjay Kumar Singh.

Notably, the last date to make changes in the entry list is July 11 (Thursday). However, there is a provision for amendment in the list even after the deadline in case of an injury to the named athlete with a rider — only one among the athletes named for a particular event can be sent as the replacement. Earlier, the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) had sent a long list of athletes including wrestlers for the Paris Games on March 31 this year.

The WFI also affirmed that the federation could not be held responsible if the participating wrestlers sustain injuries before the Games.

"Furthermore, I kindly request the TOPS Division to coordinate and facilitate medical tests of the Olympic athletes at the earliest convenience. It is important to note that any injuries sustained by any wrestler during the Games or before the Games will not hold the Federation responsible, as no preparatory camp has been sanctioned by SAI," the letter said.

Athletes to train at 3 overseas sites

The Olympic Sports Center in Spala, Poland; Antalya in Turkey; and St Moritz in Switzerland are the three foreign destinations where Indian athletes will train in their last leg of preparations.

Olympic and world champion javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra will be based in Antalya in Turkey.

India secure series lead with easy win over Zimbabwe

SHUBMAN Gill and Ruturaj Gaikwad produced high-quality knocks before the bowlers did their part as India outplayed Zimbabwe by 23 runs in the third T20 here on Wednesday.

Gill (66 off 49), Yashasvi Jaiswal (36 off 27) and Gaikwad (49 off 28) propelled India to 182 for four against Zimbabwe after the visitors opted to bat on a fresh pitch.

Zimbabwe were never really in the run chase despite an entertaining effort from number four Dion Myers (65 not out 49), ending at 159 for six in their stipulated 20 overs.

Washington Sundar, who is likely to play a bigger role in India's T20 set-up after the retirement of Ravindra Jadeja, struck thrice while Avesh Khan took a couple of wickets.

Djokovic gets free pass to semifinals, Rybakina cruises

NOVAK Djokovic progressed to a record-equalling 13th Wimbledon semifinal without hitting a ball on Wednesday after Alex de Minaur pulled out injured as former champion Elena Rybakina eased through. Australian ninth seed De Minaur, 25, announced shortly after midday at the All England Club that he was "devastated to pull out due to a hip injury".

The 37-year-old Serbian is also through to a record-extending 49th men's Grand Slam semifinal. The second-seeded Djokovic has won seven of his men's-record 24 Grand Slam titles at Wimbledon. De Minaur, who beat Djokovic at the United Cup in January, said, "It's no secret that this would have been the biggest match of my career but it's a unique injury." The world number two -- who had knee surgery last month -- does not have a title to his name this year and is still seeking a first victory against a fellow top-10 player.

The fourth-seeded from Kazakhstan broke the Ukrainian 21st seed four times, racing to victory in just 61 minutes. The 25-year-old Rybakina — at No. 4 the highest seeded woman left in the draw — improved her record at the All England Club to 19-2.

In the second quarterfinal of the day, Barbora Krejcikova reached the Wimbledon semifinals for the first time on Wednesday with a straight-sets victory over fellow former French Open champion Jelena Ostapenko as the Czech turned the corner on a testing season. Krejcikova, the 31st seed, won 6-4, 7-6 (7/4) to settle a semifinal matchup against the former champion. Ostapenko, who hadn't dropped a set on her run to the quarterfinals, instructed her coach to leave during the second set but it ultimately didn't help the 2017 French Open champion. "It's a great moment for me," said Krejcikova. 'It's an unbelievable moment that I'm experiencing right now." Krejcikova had struggled with injuries and illness earlier this season. Results (Quarterfinals): Men: Novak Djokovic (SRB x2) bt Alex De Minaur (AUS x9) - walkover; Lorenzo Musetti bt Taylor Fritz 3-6, 7-6(5), 6-2, 3-6, 6-1; Women: Barbora Krejcikova (CZE x31) bt Jelena Ostapenko (LAT x13) 6-4, 7-6 (7/4); Elena Rybakina (KAZ x4) bt Elina Svitolina (UKR x21) 6-3, 6-2.

The recently-released third season of the hit TV series Mirzapur has received mixed reviews, despite its many surprises. Actor Priyanshu Painyuli, who essays Robin in the series, on why the latest season is an intriguing watch

Plot-boiler

MONIKA MONALISA

ROBIN dies in Mirzapur 3. The idea was not to give out the spoiler but Priyanshu Painyuli, who plays the character, assures that it's alright to speak about it because there is already a buzz around it and 'people have started expressing their disappointment about killing such an interesting character'.

A still from the show

What Painyuli is trying to say is that the news of Robin's death is just a tease for his audience to find out how it happens – which he believes is more interesting than the news itself. "It is quite gruesome. The team has received many comments saying that 'this is not the way to kill a special, beloved character'. I remember telling my director long ago when he told me about Robin's death, that this is one of the most shocking parts of the season," says Painyuli.

Following the success of Season 1, Robin was introduced in Season 2. But Painyuli initially didn't realise the expectations that would come with the role. "I did not realise this when I was shooting for it or during the building of this character. Obviously, there was a certain amount of nervousness because I was entering a world that was already built by these beautiful performers. I love watching Ali [Fazal] and when I was entering Season 2, my aim was to make the character stand out," recalls the actor.

I remember telling my director long ago when he told me about Robin's death, that this is one of the most shocking parts of the season

Priyanshu Painyuli, actor

For Painyuli, the way Robin shifts his image was the most interesting aspect of the role. "In the beginning, he is a nice guy but then there is a mystery that shrouds him. We don't know if he is actually a good or bad guy doing nice things for his love. He is helping Guddu bhaiya [Fazal's character] but then there is another side to him. It is quite evident that he doesn't belong in that world of goons," notes Painyuli, adding that over the season, he turned into a chameleon who blends into whatever situation he is in.

"Those big glasses, the hairstyle and that world he has created of his own is something he has made up. His biggest strength is that he knows other people's weaknesses and knows how to talk. So he plays with that. There is more to him, which will now be a mystery," Painyuli adds.

Robin's iconic line 'Yeh bhi thik hai' will be missed for sure. The popularity of the dialogue is evident from the number of fans videos which count the times Robin says the line. Painyuli spills the beans about the person who inspired it. "I had gone for a camp and the manager used to reply to any query like this. He would talk very slowly and had a very different way of saying it. I felt it would be an interesting touch to Robin. But the line became synonymous with my character and we improvised it to use it when Robin means something more than he is saying," he says.

Sanjana Doss as Nisha in OTT show Primetime with Murthys is vulnerable and relatable for a generation grappling with the pitfalls of the digital age

Family Girl

MONIKA MONALISA

IT is tough to relate to the crazy quirks of the Murthy family from the OTT show Primetime with Murthys but you can't stop falling in love with them. Actor Sanjana Doss, who plays the daughter of the family, Nisha, says once she heard the script, there was no way she was going to let go of the opportunity to be a part of a 'rollercoaster ride'. Starring Sukhita Aiyar, Preetam Koilpillai, and Amrith Jayan, the show follows two siblings – Nisha and Shiv Murthy – who embark on a humorous and complex journey of self-discovery while navigating the beast of social media in the race to stay relevant.

Having previously worked in films, the warm reception to her role was a new experience for Doss. "It was a new experience because the only thing I had done previously were movies where there was a grand theatrical release, but this is a lot more cosy as it's my first web series. I'm excited because I feel like this could reach a lot more people," she says.

Creating Nisha was not the most difficult task for Doss, since she took a lot of inspiration from herself. "Nisha and I are very similar to each other. She is an aspiring actor and at the time I shot this, I was in a similar spot. I was a psychology student. I had moved to Mumbai to pursue acting, but then the lockdown happened, so I had to come back and live with my family, and then I was also trying to get some recognition on social media," she says. In the show, Nisha has her insecurities to deal with, and Doss recounts that it's like many of us. "Just like Nisha, I had so many questions like, 'When will I become an actor?', 'Will I ever be an actor?' The show talks about really sensitive issues in a very light-hearted way," she notes, adding that she hoped many other young actors would relate with the themes.

If Doss has to pick her favourite part of the show, then it has to be the Bengaluru connect. "It was very Bengaluru, in terms of language or the kind of jokes that it has," shares Doss. Working with the team wasn't just fun, but also knowledgeable for Doss. "The challenging bit was working with my fellow actors who are so academically rich and knowledgeable. They've done theatre for years, so they function in a different way. For me to observe them was a learning experience in itself," she signs off.

This week, Ranga Shankara's annual theatre festival is bringing seven plays from across the globe, each designed to help young audiences make sense of the world

DESE GOWDA

CHILDREN possess boundless curiosity about the world. During those precious formative years, life is a canvas of wonder and amazement, where every experience is absorbed like a sponge, shaping their future interests and outlook. Research suggests a correlation between early exposure to fine arts and culture and the remarkable success of actors in Hollywood. In India, however, there is a lack of cultural education and activities for children. For the past decade and a half, Ranga Shankara has been working to bridge this gap with its annual AHA! International Theatre for Children Festival.

"We have such a huge population, but there's very little being made for children. We often create one-size-fits-all content and call it children's films or plays, but they don't truly address issues that help children understand life, shape their personalities, or deal with truth and untruth. I got to see such plays when I was young, and when I went to Germany, I saw festivals dedicated to children and realised that India was woefully lacking in this area. If we invest in children today, we will have cultured adults tomorrow," notes actor-thespian and co-founder of Ranga Shankara, Arundhati Nag. "We were convinced that we needed to create plays with content that children can understand. It is theatre for children, not by children."

The festival's curated list of plays this year promises to be as thought-provoking as ever. "The Korean productions are interesting because they come with traditional imagery and great technical finesse. Then we have the German play Spiel Im Spiel, directed by Jaren Oran, that explores the concept of play – when it begins, when it changes, and how children transition from one game to another," Nag shares. Another play addresses gender issues. "Are we doing the right thing by colour-coding and thinking pink for girls and blue for boys? These concepts should be introduced early, not just when they reach their teens," Nag emphasises.

The festival started with themes addressing issues faced by children from different economic strata, such as dealing with violence at home or parents telling lies. Since then, the festival has evolved significantly over the years. "Children love anything because they are such an open audience. It has been a learning curve educating parents because they never experienced something like this when they were children. Even the parents take home a message about their child's capacity to understand life," shares Nag.

The veteran actor says that it isn't easy to do theatre dedicated to children and requires a deep understanding of the needs of young audiences. "It demands an understanding of child psychology, pedagogy, and dramaturgy. It's important for schools to create opportunities for children to participate in theatre, but productions based on fairy tales can't be the only experience we provide. We also need to address reality. Art is the distilled essence of any civilisation, and we must provide it to our youth if we want a civilised world. If children are not taught to respect art, we are failing them," adds Nag.

What are the benefits of collagen? What are the foods that naturally increase the production of collagen in the body?

It is one of the key ingredients for improving your skin and bone health. It plays an important role in strengthening the skin as well as its elasticity. It is also good for a healthy joint. But as you age, it gets more difficult for your body to produce collagen, which is when you may consider taking collagen supplements. Collagen is one of the proteins in your body. While it is available in powder form, you can also find it in many natural food items. Bone broth, fish, berries, green leafy vegetables, citrus fruits, avocado, garlic, eggs, nuts, and beans are some of the rich sources of collagen. What tops my list is almonds! Use a variety of natural sources in your diet.

SUPTA ARDHA GOMUKHASANA

(RECLINED HALF COW FACE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'supta' means reclined, 'ardha' means half, 'go' means cow, 'mukha' means face, and 'asana' means pose. This pose, which resembles the Ardha Matsyendrasana Variation Hand Up, when done reclined, brings the same stretch to the upper back and sides of the hips. When the spine is supported, twisting becomes easier with awareness of the body and breath. This is an asymmetrical supine twisting pose, which can be practised as a preparatory pose for Jathara Parivrtti (Supine Spinal Twist Pose) and for Ardha Matsyendrasana.

STEPS

- Lie down on your back in Supta Baddha Konasana (Reclined Bound Angle Pose). Take a few breaths here as you push your thighs towards the floor with each exhalation.
- Inhale and place your left foot on the floor besides the right knee, and lift and rotate your hips internally. Rest here in a half-bent angle pose with the right leg.
- Rest your arms on the floor besides your hips (or stretched out at shoulder level). Exhale and place the left foot firmly on the floor as you feel the stretch on the upper left hamstrings, upper gluteus, inner right upper thighs, side abdominal area, and left hip.
- Remain in this pose for about 4-6 breaths, bringing the hips inward with each exhalation.
- Stretch your arms at shoulder level and twist your head and neck to look towards your left side. This variation adds a stretch to the neck and the upper part of the spine.
- To release, lift the left foot as you inhale and relax back in Supta Baddha Konasana.
- Relax, and then repeat it on the other side. Take your right foot over to the left side and remain in this stretch for about 4-6 breaths.
- Release and relax to stretch the legs in Savasana (Corpse Pose).

LIMITATIONS

- Students with injuries to the spine, neck, shoulders, hips, or knee, avoid this.
- Those who have undergone any surgery in their abdominal area, reproductive organs, lower back, neck, etc. should avoid this pose.
- Practitioners with chronic back pain or those diagnosed with slip discs or degenerative discs should avoid this pose.

BENEFITS

- Stretches and strengthens the muscles of the spine.
- Encourages the easy flow of prana from the base of the supine upwards towards the crown of the head.
- Stretches the abdominal muscles.
- Strengthens the abdominal and core muscles.
- Stimulates the internal organs, keeping them active through improved blood circulation.
- Helps in the better functioning of the kidney, liver, pancreas, reproductive organs, stomach, etc.
- Improves the functioning of the digestive system and increases awareness and stability.
- Helps cool down after the practise of deep hip opening.
- Helps students suffering from insomnia by forming part of a therapeutic yoga sequence.
- Helps to keep the body's systems calm and relaxed.
- Helps ease the stiffness of the lower back, neck, and shoulder.
- Aids in improving the breathing process.

With the number of reported dengue cases in the city breaching the 2,000 mark, here's everything you must know about the symptoms, treatment options, and preventive measures

THE DENGUE THREAT

DR ARAVINDA GM

DURING every monsoon, dengue fever cases tend to rise. Over the last few weeks, there has been a significant increase in dengue cases, with some patients requiring hospital admission and specialised care. Thus, it is crucial to recognise early symptoms and take precautions.

What are the symptoms?

Dengue fever, caused by the dengue virus, is spread by the vector Aedes Aegypti mosquito. It usually appears in three phases: the febrile phase, the critical phase, and the recovery phase. Patients develop symptoms within 8-12 days after the mosquito bite, which is during the febrile phase. These include high-grade fever, severe myalgia, backache, headache, and rash. These symptoms are common among both children and adults and may last for three to five days.

Children may additionally have abdominal pain, vomiting, nosebleeds, and gum bleeding. If there is a delay in diagnosis and patient care, complications such as bleeding manifestations, severe tiredness, giddiness on standing, and shock can occur. This is the critical phase which commonly occurs after three to four days of fever and lasts for two to three days or longer.

Treating dengue

Treatment for dengue is predominantly symptomatic and revolves around proper hydration. In children, if the fever doesn't subside after three days, parents should take their child to a paediatrician to assess their condition and offer treatment accordingly.

At home, fever can be managed with over-the-counter medicines like paracetamol. You can take it a maximum of four times a day. Avoid diclofenac, ibuprofen, and other steroids.

Stay hydrated with water, coconut water, buttermilk, and homemade fresh fruit juices. Eat soft foods and look out for warning signs like severe vomiting, abdominal pain, confusion, and giddiness while standing as these may warrant immediate medical help.

Hospitalisation is recommended if the platelet count drops below 50,000.

Dengue during pregnancy

Dengue fever during pregnancy poses significant risks to both the mother and the foetus. Dengue infection can increase the risk of pre-term labour (birth before 37 weeks of pregnancy) and low birth weight (less than 2,500 gm). These complications arise due to restricted foetal growth caused by damage to the placenta, the vital organ that nourishes the baby.

In severe cases, dengue can cause a dramatic drop in platelet count (thrombocytopenia), triggering bleeding problems and dengue hemorrhagic fever. This can lead to matebolic acidosis (a buildup of acid in the blood), negatively affecting the baby's development and growth. The combined effects of maternal illness, low oxygen delivery to the baby, and potential placental dysfunction can cause growth restriction in the womb. However, once the mother recovers from dengue and her health stabilises, the baby's growth often gets back on track.

PIC FOR REPRESENTATION PURPOSES ONLY

Prevention is key for all during dengue seasons. Wear protective clothing with full sleeves, use mosquito repellent, and stay indoors during peak mosquito hours. Keep the environment free from mosquito breeding sites like stagnant water bodies. For pregnant women, regular prenatal care is crucial, as it can help detect and address viral illnesses like dengue early, improving health outcomes for both mother and baby.

A film like Father is what we need today: Prakash Raj

The actor, along with Krishna, Amrutha Iyengar, and producer R Chandru, is currently in Mysuru for shooting, discussed the film's production status, the reasons for choosing the cast, and shared insights about the project

A SHARADHAA

PRODUCTION house RC Studios, led by R Chandru, commenced with an ambitious slate of projects, including Father. With its production currently underway in the regal city of Mysuru, the film marks the first of half a dozen films announced by the banner. Father, penned and directed by Raj Mohan, explores the bond between a father and son. The film stars Krishna and the legendary Prakash Raj, sharing the screen for the first time, besides Amrutha Iyengar in the female lead.

Sharing his enthusiasm, Krishna said, "When I first heard the story, my wife Milana loved it even more than I did. She insisted that I do this film. Acting alongside Prakash Raj was a long-held dream of mine, but it was intimidating. Many times, I would get so engrossed in watching him perform that I would forget to react. Father is a film that will leave a lasting impression on audiences."

Prakash Raj, reflecting on his collaboration with RC Studios, expressed his delight: "I was initially supposed to work with Chandru on the film Kabzaa, but it didn't happen for various reasons. Now, I am thrilled to be part of Father. It's a story that connects with the themes of father-son love and modern-day familial relationships. When I heard the story, I felt it was a film that was much needed today. It's a hauntingly beautiful narrative. I am delighted that Chandru is producing five films under the banner. Having produced several films myself, it's exciting to act in a project being shot in Mysore, a place I love."

Producer R Chandru shared his thoughts on launching the banner with Father: "We can call this film the 'Grand*father*' because of Prakash Raj's involvement. I had planned to make a film with Krishna earlier, and now it's finally happening. Father is an emotional film akin to my previous film Taj Mahal. When the role of the father came up, I thought Prakash Raj would be perfect for it. He graciously accepted the role. We plan to shoot the film in one schedule across Mysore, Varanasi, and Mangalore."

Actress Amrutha Iyengar expressed her joy: "It's a dream come true to act alongside Prakash Raj. The shoot in Mysuru is an added delight." Director Dayal Padmanabhan reminisced about his journey with Chandru: "Chandru was an assistant director on my film Sakha Sakhi. It's a matter of joy to work with him again. I am not just the executive producer; I am right beside him in this journey."

The film's technical team consists of cinematography by Sugnan, music by Hari Gaura of HanuMan fame, and editing by Raghunath. Vinod directs the action sequences, while Madan Harini and Santosh choreograph the dance sequences. The dialogues are written by Manju Mandavya.

WEAVES A TALE OF REVENGE; FIRST LOOK LAUNCHED

CE FEATURES

R CHANDRAKANTH'S next film's title has been changed from Bhairya KA-07 to Toofaan. The film features debutant Roshan in the lead role, with Anusha Rai portraying a character with three different shades. Set against the backdrop of 1994, Toofaan weaves a tale of revenge, with Chandrakanth not only directing but also penning the story, screenplay, and dialogues. Toofaan is Roshan's dream project, shares Chandrakanth. "Roshan brought the story to me and insisted I direct it. Fifty percent of the shoot is complete, and we presented a teaser at the producer's request." Addressing the title change, he added, "With Bhairya being the hero's name, Toofaan was chosen to add a different twist."

The film is produced by Sharifa Begum Nadaf under the SR Movies banner. It is currently in production, and the makers recently unveiled the first look through noted lyricist Kaviraj. With music composed by Sachin Basrur, Toofaan aims for a pan-India release. Newcomer Roshan stressed their ambitious plans, stating, "We are planning a massive release across over a thousand centres in India." The film's cast includes Bhishma Ramaiah as the antagonist, with Rangayana Raghu, Ashwin Haasan, Surya Praveen, Ayyappa Sharma, and B Suresh in supporting roles. Cinematography for Toofaan is handled by Gangu.

CE FEATURES

THE Pranam Devaraj starrer S/o Muthanna has successfully wrapped up its production after an intense 49-day schedule. The film's completion was celebrated with a traditional ceremony, which included a pumpkin smashing event and was attended by Pranam's father as well as veteran actor Devaraj and his family.

Directed by Srikanth Hunsoor, S/o Muthanna explores the poignant relationship between a father and son. On the last day of the shoot, Pranam said, "Today is a day of joy and a bit of sadness. I am happy the shooting is over, but I will miss the daily camaraderie. This journey has been both emotional and joyful. The film beautifully portrays the bond between a father and son, something I deeply relate to. I'm grateful to Puratana Films for this opportunity."

Khushi Ravi, who plays the female lead, expressed her gratitude and excitement. "Despite the intense 49-day schedule, the team ensured everything was perfect. Director Srikanth sir's clarity made it a smooth process," she said.

'I DON'T LIKE BEING KNOWN FOR GRANDEUR ALONE'

PRASHANTH VALLAVAN

BEYOND the unmistakable visual splendour, director Shankar's films also have the distinct quality of seamlessly connecting the macro to the micro. Larger themes like corruption and civic sense will still be tied to the personal tragedy of the protagonist. In the 1996 film Indian, Senapathy's violent crusade against corruption connects with the audience not through his patriotism, or his past as a soldier in the Independence struggle, but through the tears he sheds for his daughter's death. While the first film showed Senapathy losing his only son and with Sukanya confirmed to not reprise her role as Senapathy's wife Amrithavalli, one wonders how Shankar will humanise the legendary Indian thatha in the sequel. "Senapathy considers every Indian to be his family, that's why this crusade against corruption is personal to him," the filmmaker puts it succinctly.

Fight against corruption has been a consistent theme in Shankar's films. Pondering upon this, the filmmaker gives us a reasoning as to why this is the case, "If a particular theme disturbs me the most I try to analyse it and then convert it into a story." Even when his films echo a specific brand of social justice, Shankar is conscious about not delving into didacticism and focuses on the entertainment factor as well. "After I figure out what my film should be about, I focus on how to present it. I take the audience's perspective and make sure none of the scenes would bore me as an audience. I guess my films have been successful because I stay true to both my story and the audience." Even with such a consistent track record, Shankar is no stranger to failures. On how he receives criticisms, Shankar says, "Even if the criticism is harsh, we have to learn to be objective, learn what we can from it, and adopt it in our work."

Shankar S

On the topic of criticism, Shankar responds to the comments on how Kamal's prosthetic makeup looks different from the one in the original film. "While designing Senpathy's look in the first film, we took references from pictures of Kamal sir, his father, and his two brothers. That along with inputs about the character's past in the military, were all combined together to create the look. However, as good as it was, the prosthetics in the original film were thick, so I couldn't see the minute expressions. This time around, I wanted to bring out the actor and fortunately, advancements in technology have massively improved so we were able to make prosthetics makeup that is thinner." Shankar reveals the irony of how, when the Senapathy look was revealed in 1996, there were some initial comments about how it did not look like Kamal.

He then reflects upon how Kamal's dedication remains unwavering, even after all these years. "Whether the prosthetics were thick or thin, it still took the same amount of time to put it on. He had to arrive on set by 4 AM. You have to respect Kamal sir's dedication. He will be the first on one set and the last one to leave. We had scheduled 70 days to shoot his portions in the first film but he ended up finishing it in 40 days." The director also goes on to heap praises on his production designer, T Muthuraj. "He is one of the best production designers in the country. Whether I wanted a mansion entirely made of gold, a futuristic set, or a period set, he could do anything. There are some amazing period sets you will get to see in Indian 3," he says. As someone who is known to have extravagant production designs in his films, the director dislikes the tag that comes with it. "I don't like being known for grandeur alone. I don't go looking out for grandeur. The stories I like are grand in scale on their own," he says. Shankar continues his appreciation spree by then directing his focus on Sj Suryah. "I like how he never gets satisfied. Even if someone on the sets is a little apprehensive about his performance, he will relentlessly pursue a retake." He then adds, "He has a very interesting and unique character in the film. He only has a short screen time in Indian 2, you will see more of his character in the next film."

With Indian 3 set to release by the end of this year and Game Changer all set to release in September, Shankar gets candid about his upcoming projects. "After Covid, a lot of actors approached me for films. But, back then, I had only completed the scripts for Indian 2, Velpari, and a science fiction film by then." Denying rumours about Suriya's involvement in the film, Shankar adds, "But Velpari is a humongous task and it will need a lot of time, money, and effort to get off the ground. The science fiction film does not demand a bigger star and can be done with any actor. The circumstances are the hero and villain of that story."
